BANKRUPTCY.

FEDERAL COURTS CANNOT ENJOIN STATE COURTS.

Injunctions to Restrain Dissolved.

The Remedy in State Courts.

Important Decisions by Hon. Wilson McCandless, Judge.

In the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Pennsylvania, sitting as a Court of Bankruptcy: In the matter of creditors petition, to declare Hugh Campbell a bankrupt.

Judge McCandless delivered the following opinion:

I feel the grave responsibility which attaches to the decision about to be announced. In construing a new and untried Statute, and establishing the practice to be observed in its proper administration, there must necessarily be much diversity of opinion among both lawyers and judges. The interests involved are frequently so large, and the principles so important, that inextricable confusion must result from an unsound interpretation of the legislation of Congress. This Bankrupt Act is, in my judgment, highly beneficial to both the debtor and the creditor. It was designed to relieve the one from oppressive liabilities which render him unfit to contribute to the productive wealth of the country, and it affords to the other an assurance that all the property of the debtor, except what from motives of humanity he is permitted to retain, shall be honestly devoted to the payment of his debts. With a fraudulent debtor it is wisely and justly stringent, compelling a full discovery and surrender of his assets for the benefit of his creditors, under peril of imprisonment for contempt, which, in the Courts of the United States, is a penalty not to be disregarded.

The present is a case upon creditors petition, to declare Hugh Campbell a bankrupt. Numerous acts of bankruptcy have been assigned, all of which are denied, and a trial by jury awarded. Many judgments of large amount, the validity of which are not questioned, have been entered in the Court of Common Pleas of Armstrong county, and they are all prior in date to the period when the bankrupt law went into operation. Upon final process, a sale of real estate by the Sheriff has been made, and $29,290 realized and brought into court for distribution. Under these circumstances, our extraordinary power of injunction was invoked to restrain not only the plaintiffs in these judgments, but the Courts of the State and their executive officers from further proceeding, with the design to bring all the property of the bankrupt into this Court as a Court of Bankruptcy, for division among all his creditors. The injunction against the Sheriff and the parties was granted, with leave instanter for a motion to dissolve, that we might ascertain whether, under the Bankrupt law, we have the right to interfere with the Courts of the State, in the legitimate exercise of their functions.

After much reflection I am satisfied we have not, nor with the actors, or parties, litigating before them.

The first section of the Act is wide in its scope, and would seem to bring all parties, estates and interests, connected with the Bankrupt into a common Forum or center. And to do so, it is contended that Congress, by implication, conferred upon the District Courts of the United States, the authority to suspend all and every proceeding elsewhere, and to command obedience to their mandates, exclusive of all other jurisdictions. This, by virtue of the 5th clause, of the 8th section, of the 1st Article of the Constitution of the United States, granting the power, "to establish uniform laws, on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States," Congress had the right the right to do, but they have not done so.

Staring them in the face, was the Act of the 2d of March, 1793, Section 5th, expressly declaring "nor shall a writ of injunction be granted to stay proceedings in any Court of a State." There is nothing in the Bankrupt law, in terms repealing this statute, and the authority, conferred by the 40th section, to issue an injunction against the bankrupt, and all other persons, excludes the presumption that it is to be exercised without limitation. Other "persons" here expressed, has reference to parties interfering with the property of an individual not yet adjudicated an involuntary bankrupt, and which is to be preserved inviolate, until his bankruptcy has been legally ascertained. It does not refer to the Courts of a State, or to their executive officers. It was not designed to arrest the whole machinery of another, and independent forum, which is exercising its best efforts to marshal the assets of the debtor, and after discharging the legitimate liens to which they are subject, reserving the residue, as a fund, for the assignee in Bankruptcy.

Liens, by this law, as they should be, are held sacred. To say that the vigilant creditor, who by his diligence has secured his debt, and has a valid lien upon the property of the bankrupt, shall come in with all the other creditors, pro rata, would be a perversion of the purposes of Congress in the passage of the act. No right acquired by the creditor is affected or impaired. The 14th section expressly protects him. The assignee has authority, under the direction of this Court, to discharge any lien upon any property, real or personal, and is authorized to sell the same, subject to such lien or other incumbrances. By the 15th Section he is permitted to sell all unincumbered estates, real and personal, on such terms as he thinks most for the interest of the creditors. Where there is a lien on real or personal property, the 20th Section admits the holder of the lien, as a creditor in bankruptcy, for the balance of the debt, after deducting the value of the property, to be ascertained by agreement or sale, or the creditor may release or convey his claim to the assignee, and be permitted to prove his whole debt in bankruptcy.

These several sections are distinct recognitions by Congress of the sanctity of liens, obtained before the inception of proceedings in bankruptcy, and they control, and are a limitation of the sweeping provisions of the first section. It is among the elementary principles with regard to the construction of Statutes, that every section, provision and clause of a Statute shall be expounded by a reference to every other. The most general and absolute terms of one section may be qualified and limited by conditions and exceptions contained in another, so that all may stand together.

All liens then remain intact. The Bankrupt's final certificate operates to discharge his person and future acquisitions, while at the same time, the mortgagee, or other lien creditor, shall be permitted to have their satisfaction out of the property mortgaged or subject to lien. A legal right without a remedy would be an anomaly in the law—7 Howard, 623.

It is true that the first section of the Act declares that the jurisdiction conferred on the District Court of the United States shall extend "to all cases and controversies, arising between the bankrupt and any creditor or creditors, who shall claim any debt or demand under the bankruptcy." But as the Supreme Court of the United States say, in that very able opinion delivered by my Brother, Mr. Justice Grier, in the case of Peck vs. Jennes, before quoted in 7 Howard, the Court of Common Pleas of Armstrong county, have full and complete jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter, and its jurisdiction had attached long before any act of bankruptcy was committed. It is an independent tribunal, not deriving its authority from the same sovereign, and as regards the District Court, a foreign forum, in every way its equal. The District Court has no supervisory power over it.

When the jurisdiction of a Court, and the right of a plaintiff to prosecute his suit in it, have once attached, that right cannot be arrested or taken away by proceedings in another Court. These rules have their foundation not merely in comity, but in necessity. For if one may enjoin, the other may retort by injunction, and thus the parties be without remedy; being liable to a process for contempt in one if they dare to proceed in the other. Neither can one take property from the custody of the other by replevin or other process, for this would produce a conflict of jurisdiction, extremely embarrassing in the administration of justice. The fact, therefore, that an injunction issues only to the parties before the Court, and not to the Court itself, is no evasion of the difficulties that are the necessary result of an attempt to exercise that power over a party who is a litigant in another and independent forum.

It follows, therefore, that this Court has no supervisory power over the Court of Common Pleas of Armstrong county, by injunction or otherwise, unless it is conferred by the Bankrupt law. But we cannot discover any provision in that Act which limits the jurisdiction of the State Courts, or confers any power on the Bankrupt Court, to supersede their jurisdiction, or wrest property from the custody of their officers. On the contrary it provides, in the 14th section, that the assignee "may prosecute and defend all suits at law, or in equity, pending at the time of the adjudication of bankruptcy, in which such bankrupt is a party, in his own name, in the same manner and with the like effect, as they might have been prosecuted or defended by such bankrupt." In other words, as to the estate and property of the bankrupt, the assignee is subrogated to all his rights and responsibilities. The Act sends the assignee to the State court, and admits its power over him. It confers no authority on this Court to restrain proceedings therein, by injunction, or other process, much less to take property out of its custody or possession with a strong hand.

Finding no such grant of power, either in direct terms or by necessary implication from any of the provisions of the Bankrupt law, we are not at liberty to interpolate it on any supposed grounds of policy or expediency. We shall therefore be compelled to dissolve this, and all other injunctions in similar cases.

I have not submitted this opinion to my Brother Grier, but it may be a source of gratification to the profession to learn that, sitting with him, recently, at Circuit, in Philadelphia, we conferred upon this case, and I am pleased to say that we concurred in the legal principles upon which it should be decided.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED.

This case was argued by Mr. Patterson for, and by Mr. Painter, Mr. Golden, and Gen. Foster, against the injunction.

QUESTION OF FRAUD CONSIDERED.

In the District Court of the United States, for the Western District of Pennsylvania, sitting as a Court of Bankruptcy: In the matter of William Burns, a Petitioner for adjudication in Bankruptcy, of the firm of S. & W. Burns.

Judge McCandless delivered the following opinion:

This case was argued at the same time with that of Hugh Campbell, and the principal point presented, has been there decided.

It differs in this—Burns is a voluntary Bankrupt. His petition was filed on the 31st of July, 1867, and he was duly adjudged a Bankrupt. The First National Bank, of Clarion, a creditor of the firm of which the Bankrupt was a partner, on the 18th July, 1867, obtained judgment upon warrant of attorney, dated 9th of July of the same year, for the sum of $10,300. A Fi. Fa. was issued, and a levy made by the Sheriff of Jefferson county, on merchandise and lumber, at what date, from the imperfection of the paper book, this Court is unable to say, but prior in date to the commencement of the proceedings in Bankruptcy.

It was alleged at the argument that the note, of which this judgment is predicated, was given under promise not to sue out a writ of execution, but to be held as a security, and to afford the firm, of which the Bankrupt was a partner, an opportunity to make some arrangement with their creditors. That in violation of this agreement, and in fraud of the thirty-fifth section of the Bankrupt law, the judgment was entered, execution issued, and levy made. Before the date fixed by the Sheriff for his sale, we were asked, by petition, to enjoin the Clarian Bank and the Sheriff, from proceeding further with their writ, and directing them to deliver the property, upon which the levy was made to the assignee in Bankruptcy. This we did, at the same time admonishing the Counsel of the doubts entertained as to the power of this Court, and suggesting a motion to dissolve, which was granted. Upon this point they have been fully heard, and the question has been decided to-day in Campbell's case.

It was urged, with great force and ability, by the Counsel for the Bankrupt, that we were bound to interfere, by injunction, because this was not a valid judgment. But how do we know that? It is entered in a Court of competent jurisdiction, whose authority it is our duty to respect. If it is fraudulent, or void under the Bankrupt law, it is the province of the assignee in Bankruptcy, who stands in the attitude of a defendant, to see, in that forum, that no injustice is done to the general creditors.

By the first section of the fourth article of the Constitution of the United States it is declared that "full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other State," and this is equally binding on the Courts of the United States.

We must, therefore, refer the assignee in Bankruptcy, as the representative of the defendant, and of all the creditors, to the Court of Common Pleas of Jefferson county.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED.

This case was argued by Mr. Purviance for the Clarion Bank, and by Mr. Shiras for the Bankrupt and general creditors.

Alleged Election Frauds in Philadelphia.

An injunction was granted by Judge Thompson in a Philadelphia court Saturday, restraining the return judges of election from counting votes cast by certain soldiers in the United States army at the recent election. A rule was also granted to show cause why an attachment should not issue against the return judges for disobedience and contempt in forwarding the returns to the Secretary of State, at Harrisburg, after the injunction had been issued. The circumstances of the case are briefly these: Companies K and L of the 4th artillery, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Delaware, opened polls under the direction of commissioners appointed for the purpose, and polled one hundred and twenty-three votes—one hundred and eighteen of which were cast for Judge Williams and five for Judge Sharswood. The returns were presented at the Prothonotary's office on the 11th, and a certified copy of the poll-book was sent before the return judges on Friday. The injunction was applied for and granted after the returns had been received by the judges, and the writ was served while the judges were in session. The returns were sent to Harrisburg, and are now in the hands of the Secretary of State.

Philadelphia and Allegheny.

The Philadelphia Bulletin, in reply to what it deems some unjust "fault-finding" by the Pittsburgh Gazette with the Republicans of that city, for suffering themselves to be defeated in the late election, remarks that the returns show "that the decline in the Republican vote of Philadelphia was less than nine per cent., while in Allegheny it was twenty per cent." It says further:

> The majorities in all the strong Republican counties of the West are very much reduced, and it will be discovered, when the full returns are in, that the percentage of loss in them is much greater than it is in Philadelphia. Will the Gazette explain why the Republicans of Allegheny gave a Pittsburgh candidate, in 1867, 1,098 votes less than they gave an Eastern man in 1866? The Philadelphia Republicans labored against many local difficulties, and while we do not excuse any of them for voting for Sharswood, we insist that the Western Republicans did not support, as they should have done, a Western candidate. Our heaviest proportionate losses have been in the West; in Allegheny, Erie, Lawrence, Armstrong, Beaver, Indiana, Butler, Warren, etc. If Allegheny alone had given Williams the support it gave for Geary, he would have been elected.

General Grant and the Presidency.

Senator Cresswell presided over the Maryland Republican Convention, which formally presented General Grant for the Presidency. In taking the chair, the Senator made some remarks, in the course of which he said:

> We should nominate the best men for our standard bearers and fight the battle, and in the next campaign we would achieve a more glorious triumph than any that had been before won. In times past, when Union men were driven to the verge of despair, who won the splendid victory of Donelson? [Cheers for Grant.] Around him clustered the stars of the victory of Vicksburg, and he finally conquered the whole of Lee's army. He stood to-day the embodiment of the reconstruction principles of Congress. General Ulysses S. Grant had said to him personally that those principles should be carried out to the last letter, and if the Republican party would present him as their standard bearer they would win a victory in the future still more glorious than that of the past. [Cheers.]

Why are Breadstuffs Dear.

The universal expectation of cheap breadstuffs is not being realized—on the contrary prices have recently advanced. For this their would seem to to be no actual cause. The report of the Agricultural Bureau sets down the per centage of increase at the close of the harvest as follows: Ohio, 130 per cent.; Indiana, 50; Michigan, 33; Wisconsin, 17; Minnesota, 25; Illinois, 11; Iowa, 20; Missouri, 40; Kentucky, 34; West Virginia, 50; Virginia, 50; Tennessee, 50; Georgia, 80; Arkansas, 45; New York, 14, and Pennsylvania, 40, while only Kansas and Texas show a a falling off from last year, when these crops in those States were very large."

In this connection the St. Louis Republican says: "Before the harvest, the crop here and also in England and France would, it was thought, yield in excess of the average. Since then it is getting to be believed that appearances were deceptive. In our wheat districts, though the growing crop looked very promising, the actual returns of the thrashing machine failed to make the promise good. Such at least is the impression in the West; and in consequence of it prices have advanced instead of receded." Referring to the drought the same paper says: "There probably never occurs to the farmer a worse time for sowing ground in wheat than the present season. In consequence a less breadth has been seeded down to wheat this fall. The seed that has been got in, either lies dormant in the soil, or has sent up feeble and scattering shoots which present anything but a favorable appearance.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Picayune, writing from the mouth of Red River, September 25th, gives an account of a journey he had just made from Washington county, Texas, to the Sabine. He says that the "corn crops along the route, except in Grimes and Walker counties, are generally good. Cotton, along the whole route, with rare exceptions, is almost entirely destroyed by the worm. Some few crops, which had as yet escaped, will yield well. Met a good many movers, all going westward and southward. A vast immigration is expected, and will be eagerly welcomed from east of the Mississippi. The anxious desire is to 'make Texas a white man's country.'"

A gentleman of Boston claims to have solved a very important problem for the Pacific railroad, and for whoever else has need of fuel for generating steam. Between the Sierras and Salt Lake, a distance of seven hundred miles, somebody tells us "there is not a tree of timber or piece of firewood to be obtained." Coal has not been discovered either there nor within three hundred miles. A Boston correspondent of a New York paper states that the Directors of the Pacific railway in California have in view the use of oil as fuel, to be used according to the principles discovered by Col. Henry R. Foote, on board the United States gunboat Palos.

Says a California letter writer: Maine is noted among the Eastern States for her tall pine forests, so much so that she has the soubriquet of the "Pine Tree State." Yet during a sojourn the past summer upon the headwaters of the Penobscot, the tallest tree I saw or heard of had a hight of only 157 feet. This really is a tall tree for the Atlantic coast. But when I told the Maine lumberman that I had seen scores of redwood cedar in Klamath and Del Norte counties over 300 feet high, and hosts of pine and spruce 230 feet high, they looked upon me as one whose lot was sure to be in the lake which burns with fire and brimstone.

NASHVILLE, October 14.—William and Henry Crockett, of Williamson county, have been brought here charged with the murder of Joseph Drake, colored, and shooting his wife. THE RODMAN GUN.

Its Triumph in England.

An English paper which crowed loudly over the previous experiments with the Rodman gun, "comes down" handsomely, in view of the last tests. We quote:

"The fifteen-inch Rodman gun has really penetrated the eight-inch target at Shoeburyness. There need be no longer any dispute as to the quality of the powder nor the amount of the charge. One hundred pounds weight of 'American No. 7 cannon powder,' contained in a bag nearly two feet long, have propelled a 450-pound shot through eight inches of armor and eighteen inches of solid teak. The smash was tremendous, and so was the noise. The roar of the huge gun 'made the earth tremble.' Two masses of armor-plate, each weighing about six hundred weight, were tossed some twenty yards or more to the rear of the target, and a shower of 'smaller' pieces lay scattered upon the ground. A massive timber sheet was dashed into splinters, and three others were injured. Of the inner skin of the target a piece was carried away, which is described as being of the size of an ordinary teatray. A second shot was even more triumphant than the first, seeing that it struck the target in a stronger place, being, in fact, the soundest part of the structure which has been sorely damaged by a long series of merciless experiments—the enormous quantity of 200,000 pounds of metal having been hurled against its iron front."

THE N. Y. Mail, in giving utterance to the following, is supposed to be about right: Forty years ago, when the ladies wore scanty skirts and puff sleeves, when the feet were not entirely hidden beneath satins and velvets, but were allowed to appear in society as a constituent and honorable part of the female form, dancing was conducted in its proper and its only proper way; ladies prided themselves on the graceful accuracy with which their gaiters kept time to the music and made the proper motions. Modern etiquette, however, like modern costumes is a leveller of distinctions. There is little to distinguish grace from awkwardness in the modern quadrille, and our belles and our beaux drag themselves through the figures carelessly and listlessly. We suspect modern conversation has suffered the same leveling process as dancing. Young men and women are naturally as listless in one as the other. If we are to have dancing at all, let us have it genuine. It has not enough value, at best, merely to go through the forms of doing it, with all that is really pleasing and appropriate omitted.

HORATIO SEYMOUR, who was summoned to Washington, returned to New York. He states that in an interview with the President he ascertained that there are to be no Cabinet changes for the present, and no variation in the general policy of the Administration. The disposition is to let the Ohio and Pennsylvania elections go for what they are worth, but that should New York declare against the Radical party, "then," said Mr. Johnson, "the Executive Department will be fully equal to the requirements of the times, as indicated by these irresistible expressions of the popular will."

The quality of California wheat is unequalled. During the growth of the kernel, no rain, not even a dew, moistens it. It can be transported around the globe without injury. In England its use is fast becoming a necessity. Mixed, half and half, with the damp, turgid wheat of the British Isles, it furnishes a bread greatly superior to the heavy, unpalatable loaves made of purely English grain.

HORACE GREELEY'S EARLY LIFE.

His First Entrance into New York.

In his last chapter Mr. Greeley describes his first entrance into New York. This part of the chapter we quote:

"It was, if I recollect right, the 7th of August, 1831. I was 20 years old the preceding February; tall, slender, pale and plain, with ten dollars in my pocket, summer clothing worth perhaps as much more, nearly all on my back, and a decent knowledge of so much of the Art of Printing as a boy will usually learn in the office of a country newspaper. But I knew no human being within two hundred miles, and my unmistakably rustic manner and address did not favor that immediate command of remunerating employment which was my most urgent need. However, the world was all before me; my personal estate, tied up in a pocket-handkerchief, did not at all encumber me; and I stepped lightly off the boat and away from the sound of the detested hiss of escaping steam, walking into and up Broad street in quest of a boarding-house. I found and entered one at or near the corner of Wall; but the price of board given me was $6 per week; so I did not need the giver's candidly kind suggestion that I would probably prefer one where the charge was more moderate. Wandering thence, I cannot say how, to the North River side, I halted next at 168 West street, where the sign of "Boarding" on an humbler edifice fixed my attention. I entered, and was offered shelter and subsistence at $2 50 per week, which seemed more rational, and I closed the bargain.

"My host was Mr. Edward McGolrick; his place quite as much grogshop as boarding house; but it was quietly, decently kept while I stayed in it, and he and his family were kind and friendly. I regret to add that liquor proved his ruin not many years afterward. My first day in New York was a Friday, and, the family being Roman Catholic, no meat was eaten or provided, which I understood; but when Sunday evening was celebrated by unlimited card playing in that same house, my traditions were decidedly jarred. I do not imply that my observances were better or worse than my host's, but that they were different.

"Having breakfasted, I began to ransack the city for work, and, in my total ignorance, traversed many streets where none could possibly be found. In the course of that day and the next, however, I must have visited fully two-thirds of the printing offices on Manhattan Island, without a gleam of success. It was midsummer, when business in New York is habitually dull; and my youth and unquestionable air of country greenness must have told against me. When I called at the Journal of Commerce, its editor, Mr. David Hale, bluntly told me I was a run-away apprentice from some country office, which was a very natural, though mistaken, presumption. I returned to my lodging on Saturday evening, thoroughly weary, disheartened and disgusted with New York, and resolved to shake its dust from my feet next morning, while I could still leave with the money in my pocket, and before its alms-house could foreclose upon me.

"But that was not to be. On Sunday afternoon and evening, several young Irishmen called at Mr. McGolrick's, in their holiday saunterings about town; and, being told that I was a young printer in quest of work, interested themselves in my effort, with the spontaneous kindness of their race. One among them happened to know a place where printers were wanted, and gave the requisite direction, so that, on visiting the designated spot next morning I readily found employment; and thus, when barely three days a resident, I had found anchorage in New York."

THE TELEGRAPH IN SWITZERLAND?

How Government Management Succeeds

A letter from Switzerland says: The country is covered with a net-work of telegraph wires; and the whole is under control of the Federal Government. In the chief town and large villages, there is a telegraph bureau connected with the postoffice. In smaller places, where there is no bureau, the postmaster receives and forwards your dispatch to the nearest bureau. These bureaus are light, clean, sightly places, kept open all day and a good part of the night, and furnished with every convenience for the public. The clerks are intelligent and civil officers, who take your dispatch, whether in French, German, English or Italian, give you a receipt, and forward it promptly to any part of the country. The charge is twenty sous (about twenty cents) for twenty words, forty sous for forty words, and sixty sous for one hundred words. You have a right, moreover, to use any telegraph on the railroad lines, by paying ten sous extra. This system has worked so well, and so manifestly promotes the public good, not only by facilitating business, but by promoting instruction and social relations, that the Federal Government, cautious and economical as it is, has resolved that after January 1, 1868, prices shall be reduced fifty per cent. Then a dispatch may be sent to any part of the country for half a cent a word!

LATE NEWS.

General Sickles' request for a court of inquiry is refused. The President says Sickles ought to be satisfied with the publication of his correspondence.

It is said that the Germans of New York City are equally divided on the liquor question; about one-half will vote for the Democratic ticket and the other half for the Republican. It is estimated that the Democratic majority in that city will be nearly fifty thousand.

Allen and Ryall, English pugilists, had a meeting in New York Sunday night, and put up two hundred and fifty dollars apiece, as part of the stakes on the coming fight, which is to take place in New Jersey next month.

Mrs. Martha Webster died in Brooklyn on Saturday morning, from the effects of an overdose of morphine, which had been inadvertently prepared by a druggist's assistant in a store on Third avenue, in that city.

Levi Settleman Ives, DD. LLD., formerly Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of North Carolina, and well known for his religious writings, philanthropic works, and conversion to the Catholic faith, died at his residence in Manhattanville, New York, Sunday afternoon.

There were four seizures reported in New York on Saturday, made by the officers of the Internal Revenue. They were as follows: One hundred barrels of whisky at Pier No. 1, North River; twenty-five barrels of whisky at East River Pier, foot of Duane street; twenty-two barrels of spirits at Albany Pier, and an illicit distillery in Tremont street, near Vanbrunt street Brooklyn.

It is said that the split in the Republican party, in Virginia, will result in two tickets for the Constitutional Convention. The one proposed by the Radicals is so objectionable that an independent ticket will be nominated; it is more than probable that a Democratic ticket will also be nominated.

A heavy cloud recently passed over Macon, Georgia, in an otherwise clear sky, at such a rate that from its first appearance on the eastern horizon to its disappearance in the northwest was not more than three minutes. It was densely black except at the edges, which were lighted by the moon. It was accompanied by a roaring sound of wind, and the air for a moment grew cold, though the foliage hardly rustled in the lower air.

THE CAPITAL.

The Maryland Government.

Hon. Thad. Stevens's Propositions.

He Will Demand the President's Impeachment.

Professionals Arriving in the Capital.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C. October 14, 1867.

The Sub-Judiciary Committee.

The Judiciary Committee met this morning, in their room at the capitol, a majority being present. In the absence of the chairman, it was decided to confine business to the Sub-Committees, and that relating to the inquiry into the Government of Maryland was taken up by the Sub-Committee. It was ascertained that none of the witnesses were present, and an adjournment was effected.

Mr. Stevens's New Proposition.

The Evening Express, of this city, says that Thaddeus Stevens has written a letter since the election of last week. He says he shall demand the impeachment of the President immediately upon the reassembling of Congress, and the enactment of a law suspending his official functions pending the trial. He also advocates the enfranchisement of the blacks in all the States by act of Congress.

Professionals Arriving.

The city is rapidly filling up. Within two days there has been a large arrival of politicians, adventurers, office-seekers, claim agents, claimants, and a good many professional lobbyists.

The Metropolitan Revenue Board.

WASHINGTON, October 14, 1867.

THE COUNTERFEIT SEVEN-THIRTIES.

Additional points of difference in the spurious 7-30's show that in the counterfeit notes the lines forming the right shoulder of the female in the central vignette do not come up to the sword, but leaves a white space. In the genuine note the lines are not only more numerous, but come clearly and distinctly up to the sword. So far as discovered the Treasury Department had presented to it only $70,000 worth of spurious notes.

TO SAIL.

The store ship Idaho is expected to sail from New York for Japan on the 18th inst.

DELAWARE AND MARYLAND.

The Sub-Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives met to day at 2 o'clock in the committee room at the Capitol. The following members were present: Hon. Francis Thomas, Chairman, with Messrs. Boutwell, Lawrence, Churchill and Marshall. This committee is charged with the duty of inquiring if the States of Delaware and Maryland have a Republican form of Government and not repugnant to the constitution of the United States. No testimony has been taken although witnesses are in waiting.

GEN. SCHOFIELD'S VISIT.

The Times' special says: General Schofield left for Richmond this morning. The story that he was called here by the President, is not true. He came up to see General Grant. The election in his district comes off on Tuesday of next week. He has no doubt but the Convention will be carried, and thinks it likely that a majority of the delegates will be Republican in politics. It is probable that he may ask for a short leave of absence after his election is over.

PATENTS ISSUED.

The Commissioner of Patents has issued certificates for 213 patents for the week ending October 21, 1867.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE RETURNED.

Chief Justice Chase returned to Washington to-day.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY MEN.

A number of prominent Southern railway men are here, including Generals Beauregard and Mahone, who called at the War Department to-day to consult with General Grant with reference to obtaining an extension of time for completing the payment due Government for rolling stock purchased after the close of the war. General Beauregard this afternoon had an interview with Secretary McCulloch.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The acting commissioner of Indian Affairs has received this dispatch from Thomas Murphy, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, dated Medicine Lodge Creek, sixty miles South of Fort Larned, October 11: I have now been twelve days here among the Indians and find them all anxious for peace. I have considerable trouble in getting communication with the Cheyennes, but have succeeded. They promise that no more war parties shall go out, and agree to meet the commissioners. I can now safely say that the Arrapahoes, Cheyennes, Apaches, Kiowas and Camanches will be fully represented here at grand council. There are large numbers of these Indians here now, and others are coming in as fast as they can. Say to Commissioner Taylor if the commissioners can get here sooner than full moon it would be better.

IMPORTANT TO BANKERS.

The Comptroller of the Currency, in reply to numerous letters from country banks inquiring if the three per cent. certificates can be used in place of legal tender reserve of banks, notifies them that such use is illegal.

THE CONSCIENCE FUND INCREASING.

A letter received some time ago at the Treasury Department from Urbana, Ohio, enclosing United States notes and bonds amounting to $19,854, sent without explanation, has after being held for information from the sender, been transferred to the Treasury of the United States, and included in the conscience fund.

NOT TO BE ABOLISHED.

Secretary McCulloch to day denied the truth of the report that the New York Metropolitan Revenue Board is to be abolished.

IMPORTANT MEASURES PROPOSED BY THAD. STEVENS.

Letters have been received here from Thaddeus Stevens, in which he declares his intention to urge upon Congress, as soon as it meets in November, two great measures, essential to the safety of the country. The first is a general impeachment law, defining offenses upon which an officer may be impeached, and expressly declaring that no officer shall continue to exercise the power of his office during his trial. The second law which Mr. Stephens intends to urge, will provide that under the authority of the Constitution, and upon the principles of the Declaration of Independence, no State shall have power to prohibit citizens of the United States, whatever their race, color or religion, from voting for President or Congressmen; this law will establish impartial suffrage throughout the Union. Leading Republicans affirm that Mr. Stevens will be sustained by Congress.

THE THREATENED PRESIDENTIAL COUP DE ETAT.

The Tribune's special says: The Republicans here expect that the Cabinet will be harmonized in support of the threatened Presidential coup de etat, and they seriously think that the aspect of affairs is fraught with great danger. They fear that Congress may convene in a bold and defiant spirit, and adhere to the declared policy of the extreme men, viz: Impeachment and suspension of the President during the trial, and since the elections more than ever they believe Mr. Johnson will resist and attempt with force, if necessary to maintain his Constitutional right to hold the office until judgment after the trial. Others argue that the effect of the elections has been to settle these grave questions, and that impeachment will find fewer advocates at the next session than were counted in the last.

DENIAL FROM GEN. GRANT.

The Star here denies officially the statement that General Grant has expressed himself as satisfied with the results of the late elections in Pennsylvania and Ohio. General Grant also pronounces false and malicious the report going the rounds of the newspapers purporting to give a synopsis of his evidence before the Judiciary Committee on Impeachment.

SOUTHERN RAILROADS.

The House Select Committee on Southern Railroads will leave this city for their trip South, on Wednesday, the 16th instant. They will be absent about a month, and will visit Richmond, Charleston, Chattanooga and Nashville. Col. McClurg, of Missouri, a member of the Committee, arrived last night.

THE WAR OFFICE.

At the last meeting of the Cabinet, the question of appointing a permanent Secretary of War was discussed, and the President has since had the subject under serious consideration. Gen. Grant strongly urges Major General Rawlins, his Chief of Staff, for the position, and it is quite probable he will get the appointment.

THE PRESIDENT.

His Opinion of the Late Elections.

Extreme Men of Both Parties Rebuked.

No Immediate Cabinet Changes Meditated.

The Political Situation from the Presidential Standpoint.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 14, 1867.

In order to settle the conflict of statements in regard to the alleged contemplated Cabinet changes, and to obtain, as far as possible, a correct idea of the views of the President on the recent election, your correspondent sought and obtained to-day an interview with Mr. Johnson. Notwithstanding he was nearly worn out with the constant stream of visitors which has been pouring on him for the last week, he was in fair health and agreeable humor. After a desultory conversation, the President in reply to a remark said that the numerous reports set afloat from here about changes in the Cabinet, especially so far as they named certain men for certain positions, were wholly unauthorized and untrue. He did not include the War Department particularly, as he looked upon that as virtually a vacancy. He did not intend, he said, to make any changes in haste, but what he did in that line would be the result of careful deliberation and for the best interests of the country. Within a few days, he added, a tremendous pressure had been made on him to make some change. Prominent Democrats, Voorhees, of Indiana, among them, had declared that the only reliance on any party the President could have was on the Democratic party, and that as a consequence, as the elections had shown, it should be represented in his Cabinet. He had been urged, therefore, by delegations, by letters, and by telegrams, to remove all his Cabinet but Mr. Welles and Stanbery. The West was clamorous that Mr. McCulloch should be decapitated, and while the President did not say so, the fact is known that one of the arguments used against the Secretary of the Treasury was, that the latter was identified with what is known as the Presidential Chase interest.

Referring to the elections, the President said that they did not surprise him. He had often declared in his public speeches that the people would eventually come around right; that they often rose above politicians, Presidents and even Congresses. In Ohio he thought that the two extremes had been rebuked by the people in the defeat of Thurman and Wade—the one for Governor and the other for the Senate, while the only national issue in the elections was defeated in Ohio by forty or fifty thousand majority. This he regarded as a repudiation of the Congressional policy on the question of reconstruction. The Ohio election, he continued, presented a remarkable fact of the progress of the revolution in politics. It was simply the logic of events—the result of popular feeling on the question of suffrage against what he looked upon as a powerful opposition in the shape of an influential press, with a State Government in the hands of Republicans, and with the leading men of the Republican party on the stump. He hoped the lesson taught in Ohio would be followed everywhere; that the people would avoid the dangerous extremes of both parties, and rising above them look only to the welfare of the country.

Your correspondent came away with the conviction that, notwithstanding the persistent representations of the public men who have talked with the President, he has not decided on any immediate Cabinet change, nor did he furnish the slightest ground for the still more important rumor that he intended any interference with the Reconstruction Acts. The interview served only the purpose of allowing a fair statement of the President's views on the political situation to be made, and to that extent this dispatch is given without misrepresentation and in the partisan interest of no one.

Alexander's Woodstock won; Lowdown was second, and Victory third. Time 2:14¾. The second race was for the proprietor's stake for three years old colts and fillies, fifty dollars entrance, mile heats, proprietors adding five hundred dollars. Eight horses started. Thomas S. Filley's Hira won the race in two straight heats, Alhambra came in second, and Rivoli third. Time 1:45¾ and 1:47.

RICHMOND.

Republican City Convention--Nominees to Constitutional Convention--Other Candidates to be Nominated.

RICHMOND, October 14.—The Republican City Convention met at the Capitol Square, at noon to-day. The candidates to the Constitutional Convention, agreed upon Saturday night, J. W. Hunnicutt, Judge Underwood, and James Morrissey, white, and Lewis Lindsley and James Cox, colored, were unanimously nominated. The meeting was one of the largest ever held on the square, and the greater portion of the colored population were present. Fewer white people than usual attended. It is said the greater portion of the white and moderate colored men intend making other nominations. The ex-officers and soldiers party did not take part, but will nominate a ticket of their own. After the nominations, the candidates, with the exception of Underwood, who is absent from the city, were called out and made speeches of a very proscriptive character.

General Schofield returned here yesterday. There will be no change in the reconstruction programme in this State.

A card will be published in the morning by the moderate Republicans, cautioning parties against pledging themselves to the ticket nominated to-day, as intelligent, responsible candidates will be announced at once. The conservatives intend holding a meeting to organize and nominate a ticket for the city and also one for the county during the week.

PETROLEUM.

Business Prospects for the Remaining Months of the Year--Operations in Venango Regions and in West Virginia.

The amount of petroleum now in the hands of dealers is generally estimated at nearly one million of barrels, and the daily production at between eight thousand and nine thousand barrels. From these facts the opinion prevails that the supply more than keeps pace with the demand, and many anticipate so great an accumulation of oil that the question of its disposal is now the absorbing one with dealers and producers. The Oil City Petrolian has a more hopeful view of oil prospects, and calls attention to some facts as follows:

The business season of 1867 fairly commenced in July. Prices and the demand have steadily advanced since the commencement. August shows a better average of both prices and demand than July; September than August, while October shows the highest advance of the season, crude having been sold at 14c in Pittsburgh, and refined at 27c in Philadelphia, and sales of refined have been made freely for 35½@36c for the last three months of the year. A "ring" may be formed to control the market for a brief period, but it is impossible to control the market for so long a time as three months.

We are willing to accept the facts as they occur, without predicting too much on the future. The steady advance of prices during the last three months bids fair to continue for the three successive ones. The fact of the market remaining so steady, notwithstanding the combination of so many unfavorable circumstances operating against it, is certainly as favorable a feature as a reasonable person could desire. It must be taken into consideration that the shipment for the first half of 1867 were not so great as for the same period of 1866. The price of refined, which constitutes the great bulk of foreign export, have been far less this year than last. It is but reasonable to suppose, claiming credit for a greater consumption and a cheaper rate, that the foreign supply required for 1867, will be fully one-third more in amount. The export for 1867 to present date is 46,081,245 gallons. Same time in 1866, 44,855,345 gallons. The shipments for 1867 show an increase over those of 1866 for same time, of over two millions of gallons. If there is no falling off in foreign shipment, and it is highly evident that there are stronger reasons for an increase than there is for a falling off, the increase of foreign shipment for 1867 will exceed 1866 fully one-third. Combining the fact of a largely increased consumption with the above, it would seem to us from a liberal standpoint that our accumulated stock will not trouble us to any material extent.

The oil that has been purchased for first rise in the Allegheny, will soon have to be moved. There is little probability of the Allegheny Valley Railroad being in order to ship any considerable quantity of oil for the next two months at least, and perhaps more, it not being yet finished to this point. If this oil cannot be shipped to Pittsburgh during that time, a large portion of it will probably have to go somewhere else. There is too much held here to winter profitably. Taking all things into consideration, the prospect for the present month looks exceedingly promising for an increased average of prices over the preceding one of September, and we confidently look for an improvement in each of the succeeding months of the year.

NEW WELLS IN VENANGO.

The Titusville Herald, of Thursday, chronicles the following new strikes: About ten days since a new well was struck on the McClintock reserve of the Wash. McClintock Farm. It is now producing about 125 barrels per day. It is owned by Mr. H. Lehr. A new well was struck on Saturday last on the S. A. Woods tract of the Thomas Woods Farm. It is situated within a few rods of the flowing well. Yesterday the production was fully 100 barrels. It is owned by Mr. S. A. Woods. A new well was struck last week on lease No. 2 of the Benninghoff Farm, and on Saturday last it was producing at the rate of 50 barrels per day. The working interest is owned by Mr. Joseph Overy.

OIL ROCK, WEST VIRGINIA.

The "Forlorn Hope" well, at Oil Rock, West Virginia, commenced pumping on September 30th, a stream of pure oil the full size of the tubing, but the sucker rods broke on the 8th inst., since which time the superintendent has been engaged in repairing the damages. The Parkersburg Times says: Various parties are now pumping at Oil Rock some ten wells—many of the heretofore open wells being securely plugged. Several of these wells have been already successful in some degree in reproducing the oil which was drowned out during last winter by an influx of surface water from numerous wells which were left uncased. The following are among these, viz: Jenkins & Hasslitt are pumping the well known as the Roose and Hansford well. Mr. Gay is pumping the Fick & Chandler well which now yields fifteen barrels per day. Mr. Rittenhouse is pumping the Emmitt well, and also his well known as Eastwood well on No. 105 S. S. Oil Co.'s tract. The latter is yielding five barrels per day. Mr. John Dixon is pumping the Orchard well which is yielding as yet only water. Metz & Gill are pumping the Hoffman well which yields some little oil. The water on Wednesday was reduced 210 feet. The fact that oil is again obtained, destroys the theory of some that the oil had floated away on the water into other channels or reservoirs. It is now only a question of time when Oil Rock will exhaust the flood of water which smothered and depopulated her, and take her stand beside the best oil producing regions of our State.

The Restaurants of London and Paris.

Colonel Forney, in one of his foreign letters, supplies the following on this interesting subject: "Nothing interests a stranger more than the restaurants of Paris and London, and here I can say that, having tried many of them, I met nothing to compare with Delmonico's, in New York. This is somewhat surprising, considering that the whole population of Paris literally live in cafes; but herein I believe I speak for all our countrymen. There are some six hundred chop-houses or dining-rooms in London which supply dinners, and nine hundred coffee-houses which supply tea to the stranger, and there is a place in the Strand, called The Divan, where, for one shilling, you have the entree of a handsome room, a cup of coffee and a cigar, and the use of periodicals, chess, &c. In Paris there are two thousand six hundred and thirty of these establishments, some of them are extravagant enough, and no really elaborate dinner can be had for less than eight to ten francs, but there are houses where excellent dinners are served for two francs, including wine. In some places thirty-five and even thirty sous are received. It is difficult to fancy anything more tastefully brilliant than the cafes on the Boulevards, when lighted at night. The effect whether seen from within or without is perfectly dazzling, chairs and small tables are placed outside where both sexes enjoy the cool of the evening and witness the animated scenes around them, while within you see yourself reflected by mirrors remarkable for their size and number. You are bewildered with the blaze of light, and the confused glitter of gilding and glass. Nearly all these places furnish chocolate, coffee, tea, ices, liquors, &c.

How to preserve ice for a considerable length of time, for domestic purposes, and especially the sick room, is told by an exchange thus: "Make two bags of stout woolen fabric; the inner one should be fourteen inches wide by fourteen inches deep; the outer bag should be made at least two inches wider each way. After placing the bag inside the other, stuff feathers between the two and sew the two bags together at the top. Put a block of ice into a bag of this description, and it will be preserved for nearly a week; when under exposure it will melt in less than an hour."

THE San Francisco (Cal.) Musical Times, in a specific notice of the different church organs in that city, thus gives the following complimentary testimonial to the AMERICAN ORGAN. The extract says: "What the most successful organ makers have accomplished in pipe organs, Messrs. S. D. & H. W. Smith, of Boston, Mass., have accomplished in reed organs. To their mechanical genius and enterprise, is due the perfect instrument they now produce, giving the power of the pipe organ, and a tone almost identical. The AMERICAN ORGANS manufactured by Messrs. Smith, are infinitely superior to any other reed organ made in the world."

OHIO NEWS.

The tobacco crop of Belmont county has been shorn of one-half of its proportions by the long continued dry weather and the succeeding severe frost.

The receipts of the Champaign County Fair footed up $8,000.

The Madison County Union says that two persons have died in that county, within two or three weeks, of milk sickness—Michael Dwyer, near Somerford, and Mr. Tracy, in Paint township. Several others have had the disease, but have recovered.

The Scioto Gazette says: Bush, the negro who assaulted Mrs. Hegler, and Swining, the white man who knocked a lady down, and committed a rape on her, at her home in Huntington township, attempted to burn the jail last Tuesday. The fire was discovered and extinguished before it had done much damage.

The citizens of Crestline held a meeting a few weeks since, and resolved to donate $7,000 and five acres of land to a company who propose establishing an agricultural works at that place. They also resolved to loan the said company $25,000 for two years to advance the work. The offer was made to H. J. Ball, of Canton, who has it under advisement.

On the 5th instant, Mrs. Joseph Candles, living about two miles east of Columbiana, Ohio, committed suicide by hanging herself with a skein of yarn, to a rafter, in the dwelling house.

Ohio is now the chief wool growing State, having 6,508,052 sheep, out of 32,605,797 in the whole United States. In 1866, the live stock of Ohio, was valued at $151,000,000, which is greater than any other State except New York.

Columbus claims, by virtue of a recent municipal census, a population of 28,000, an increase of about 10,000 since 1860.

A young man is going through bankruptcy in Dayton whose only creditor is a young lady with a verdict of five thousand dollars for breach of promise.

A FRENCH savan has been making some new investigations in one of the communes as to the effect of consanguineous marriages in producing disease and idiocy in the offspring. His researches were in a locality which furnished large opportunity for observation, and he minutely investigated the history and circumstances of forty families resulting from such marriages. He has prepared tables to show that neither vices of conformation, insanity, idiocy, cretinism, deaf-muteness, nor epilepsy existed among any of these families; and he has come to the conclusion that the dangers of consanguine marriages result from an intensification of any morbid hereditary tendencies that may exist in each parent, while, if each be perfectly healthy, the fact of consanguinity counts for nothing. The subject is one regarding which our knowledge is very imperfect, and in which anything like scientific investigation is very limited. Though of great importance to the human race, it is moreover a subject about which accurate dates are exceedingly difficult of collection. It is always safe, however, to follow the old injunction that a "man shall not marry his grandmother."

A private letter from Macon, Ga., received by the Commercial Agency of McKillop & Sprague, says: "Matters (financially) are daily becoming more stringent. In the first place, the cotton crop was cut off fully one-third by the incessant rains through the summer, and now the price declining will barely leave the planters able to pay the expenses of raising, as most of them have bought (on credit) the provisions and provender for their hands and mules, besides the hire of hands. So you can see by this that the mercantile interest must suffer. I fear a general crash this next spring, if not sooner."

CITY MATTERS.

REPAIRED.—Portions of Center Avenue have been recently repaired by the Street Department. This thoroughfare is now one of the best paved streets in the city.

AMOUNT OF BAIL FIXED.—Several witnesses in the case of "Teddy" McCarthy, charged with assaulting Officer Mullen in the Fifth ward a few weeks since, were heard by Judge Stowe yesterday morning, and the bail fixed at $3,000.

HELP THE SOLDIER.—Corporal G. A'Lord, of the 125th New York Volunteers, who is incapacitated from wounds received in the service to labor for a livelihood, has issued a little book containing important State papers, and he is now in this city offering it for sale. He depends upon his sales for the maintenance of himself and family and should meet with favor from every patriot.

ODD FELLOW'S HALL DEDICATION.—J. B. Nicholson Lodge No. 583 I. O. of O. F., East Liberty, was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies last evening. J. B. Nicholson, P. D. G. M., delivered an address about an hour and a quarter in length, on the Working and Teachings of the Order. He was assisted in the services by D. G. M. Chadwick. About four hundred members were present, and the ceremonies were very impressive.

COLORED MEN'S VIEWS ON RECONSTRUCTION.—J. P. The Daily Commercial

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1867.

THE COMMERCIAL is the largest daily paper in the State, and gives daily one-fourth more reading than any other paper in Pittsburgh. It is the only Pittsburgh paper that uses the telegraph liberally, gives full market reports, and all the news of the day.

GEN. RAWLINS, chief of Gen. GRANT'S staff, is the latest name on the slate for Secretary of War. Anything as good as his appointment would be cannot reasonably be expected from the President.

THE name of Hon. JOHN HICKMAN, of Chester county, is mentioned by the Philadelphia Press in connection with the Speakership of the next House of Representatives of this State.

A REPORT was set afloat a few days ago to the effect that General GRANT had expressed himself "pleased with the result of the late elections." It belonged to the coinage of other reports equally absurd, and scarcely required the denial which has been given to them.

THE Philadelphia Press cries aloud for a change in the mode of making nominations—and even talks about "rings" that ought to be smashed. The "Crawford county system" is regarded with favor. But, says the Press—

> "There can be no doubt that any change from the delegate system, which at present has been thoroughly mastered by the professional politicians, would be at least a temporary relief. While the system was an experiment, if no longer, people and politicians would be on an equal footing."

THE report from Washington is that the President and the Democrats do not hitch—that while they think he should surrender to them, he is of the opinion they should come to him. Mr. JOHNSON has not sense enough left to perceive that his only consequence relates to the little patronage he has left. This he is disposed to use to make himself the Presidential candidate of the Democrats and "Conservatives."

THE New York Herald casts Mr. JOHNSON off like an old shoe. It was only the other day that he was the hope of the nation and bound to win; but now the wicked Herald kicks him to the dogs after the following fashion:

> Now, recalling the experience of John Tyler, of blessed memory, and of Millard Fillmore, the happy man, there would seem to be nothing left to Mr. Johnson but retirement to the shades of private life at the end of his appointed term, assuming that the axe of impeachment need no longer disturb his slumbers.

A VERY general recommendation, including members of the bar without distinction of party, politicians, and business men generally, has been laid before His Excellency Governor GEARY, in favor of the appointment of Hon. M. RUSSELL THAYER to the vacancy in the District Court of Philadelphia and county, soon to be created by the election of the incumbent, Judge SHARSWOOD, to the Supreme bench.

A RUMOR, which is said to reflect probabilities, designates ERASTUS CORNING, of Albany, New York, to be the successor of Secretary McCULLOCH. Mr. CORNING is a safe man, and has had large experience in financial and business affairs; and we can recall to mind scarcely another Democrat who would bring to the post less that is objectionable, and at the same time a good deal more than ordinary ability. But we doubt the rumor, because of the age of Mr. CORNING, and the somewhat broken condition of his health. If, however, there is to be a new appointment, and considering the risk that will attend almost any change in the head of the Treasury, we should hear of the offer of the place to Mr. CORNING, and the acceptance of it by him, with a feeling of relief.

IMPORTANT BANKRUPT DECISIONS BY JUDGE M'CANDLESS.

We publish this morning two very important opinions delivered yesterday morning in the District Court of the United States for this District, by His Honor Judge McCANDLESS. The first one, that in the matter of creditor's petition, to have HUGH CAMPBELL adjudged a Bankrupt, is a very able, clear and distinct discussion of the power of the Federal Courts to restrain by Injunction, State Courts and their Executive officers. This question has frequently been raised in proceedings in Bankruptcy, and the legal profession will no doubt be thankful to Judge McCANDLESS for thus early delivering his opinion. It is based upon broad general principles, which are in no way affected by any peculiar facts in the case before his honor. It seems that to make a system of Bankruptcy thoroughly effective, the Federal Courts should have the power to restrain any and all persons, whether acting in an individual or in an official capacity, from any disposition of property which may or should be marshaled in Bankruptcy for the benefit of creditors; but as such a power has not been conferred on the United States by the Bankrupt law, Judge McCANDLESS has very properly decided that he does not possess it. It will be observed, however, that the learned Judge clearly intimates that Congress can, under the provision giving it power to establish a general system of bankruptcies, confer this right upon the Federal Courts. This being the case, we presume an amendment will be sought from Congress remedying this defect.

In the second, in the matter of WM. BURNS, the same question was raised and decided by reference to the opinion in CAMPBELL'S case. There was an additional question, however, alleging that a judgment in the Court of Common Pleas of Jefferson county, which the Sheriff was proceeding to collect by writ of Fi. Fa., had been obtained by fraud. This question was decided by Judge McCANDLESS on Constitutional principles, and he remitted the Assignee to the State Courts to determine the validity of the judgment.

These important opinions reflect great credit upon their learned author, and will in no small degree widen the reputation he already richly merits for clear and logical expression, for broad and comprehensive reasoning, and for soundness of conclusions.

WAIT A LITTLE.

It is well enough, and natural enough, for our Democratic friends to be tickled over the election. Not to be badly beaten comes to them with the novelty and relish of a new and agreeable experience. And under such circumstances a little gratification of hope and a little relief from fear produce emotions that naturally exhibit themselves in demonstrations of an exaggerated character.

But when the results of the late election are analyzed, their causes estimated, their aggregate and relative number of votes compared and their actual benefits to the Democratic party measured, the disproportion between the glorifications and the benefits becomes apparent. It will be found, that the larger, much the larger, share of the advantages lies in the distant future, surrounded by the haze and uncertainty of all future events, and especially those of a political character. Even the agreeable surprise given to our Democratic friends by this year's election should carry with it some admonition to moderate and modify their extravagant expectations in relation to that of next year.

In no respect do the elections that have taken place affect immediately the sound Republican condition of the general government, or its one great work of restoring the Union. Nor are the causes that have produced the result this year of such a character as to insure anything like a similar result next year. A Democratic member added to the small minority in either branch of the National Legislature cannot materially effect the character of the Legislation. The execution of the laws also may be expected to go on according to their provisions, and the work of reconstruction to advance prosperously, with even less embarrassment than during the past year. And besides all this, the next election will elicit the strength of the Republican party, which the recent one did not, and in the choice of an Executive and Legislature for the completion of the grand enterprise of reconstruction and for administering the affairs of the glorious restored Union, all patriotic and loyal elements will unite and totally extinguish the hopes of disloyalty and all leagued with it. The present failure will, by legitimate consequences, reanimate the Republican energy, and we do not deem it an extravagant opinion, that it will result in greater advantages to it than to the Democratic party now in a high state of exhilration.

THE EFFECTS OF CONSOLIDATION.

In yesterday's COMMERCIAL, we laid before our readers the provisions of the Consolidation Act, in regard to the preliminary election for members of Councils, for Mayor and other city officers, to be held on the second Tuesday of December. There are other features in the act which have an important bearing upon our municipal government, and which every voter should understand. It was, doubtless, thought, when the bill was framed, that consolidation would carry in each of the districts at the polls, and some of the provisions of the law were evidently framed with that supposition in view. The territory actually acquired, however, and the population added, although falling far short of what was anticipated, are of sufficient importance to justify a remodeling of our municipal affairs, which will virtually result from putting in force the Consolidation Act. We will note some of the effects of this measure, as we glance over the law. The boundary lines extend from the junction of the Monongahela and Allegheny Rivers with the Ohio, to the line separating Wilkins and Penn townships on the East, from Peebles and Collins on the West, and includes all the territory between the first two mentioned rivers, West of the dividing line between the townships named. This will form an irregular triangle, with a distance of about six and a half miles on each river, and about four miles from river to river along the Eastern line. This area has not been estimated, but it is sufficient of itself to make a very large city. Such is "the Consolidated city," and the law is in some degree a new charter for its government. It is provided that, after the election in December, and before the first of July, 1868, Councils shall pass an ordinance dividing and arranging the territory into wards, in such manner as to make not more than forty wards. In July, 1868, and in July of every fourth year thereafter, the representatives of each ward in the Select and Common Councils shall be apportioned by a commission consisting of the Mayor and Presidents of Councils, to whom the City Assessors shall make an exact return of all resident taxables in each ward or precinct for that purpose.

The corporate authority is vested in the Mayor, Councils, Constables, Treasurer and City Attorney, with such other offices as may be lawfully created under the act. The corporation shall have power to abate nuisances, regulate the transportation and keeping of gunpowder, or other dangerous combustibles, and provide or license magazines for the safe keeping of the same. They can also regulate the running at large of cattle and other animals, and authorize the distraining and sale of the same. This is a matter of some importance to those residing in the "rural" portions of the city. The corporation also has power to suppress and restrain disorderly houses, houses of ill-fame, billiard tables, nine or ten pin alleys, and gambling places; to regulate the building of houses, appoint an inspector of new buildings, and prohibit, by ordinance, anything which may endanger life or property by fire or other accident; to regulate, license, or prohibit theatrical exhibitions and shows of all kinds; to regulate or prohibit the sale of horses or other domestic animals at auction in the streets, alleys or public highways; and to regulate taverns and other houses of public entertainment, ale and porter shops, and houses and other places for habitual resort for tippling or intemperance. In a word, the corporation is given full power to legislate upon all matters affecting the safety and security of life and property, and the preservation of the public peace and morals. The suppression of houses of ill-fame, gambling places, etc., and the regulation of taverns and drinking houses, are powers of grave importance, and if properly exercised would be productive of great good to the community. It is obligatory on Councils to make and publish from time to time, such ordinances as are necessary to carry into effect the powers conferred by the act. These ordinances may be enforced by the imposition of fines, forfeitures and penalties, which may be prescribed in each particular ordinance, or by a general ordinance made for the purpose. Persons neglecting to pay such fines and forfeitures, shall be imprisoned at hard labor until, at the rate of seventy-five cents each day, they shall have earned an amount equal to the fine and costs. Councils shall make suitable regulations to conduct this prison labor to the best advantage, which may be done at the city prison, city workhouse, or elsewhere, and under charge of such persons as Councils may by ordinance direct. These fines and forfeitures may, in all cases, and in addition to any other mode provided, be recovered by suit before the Judge of the Police Court, or any other Court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the corporation and for its use.

Another important feature of the consolidation act is the veto power conferred upon the Mayor. The general powers of the Mayor are thus defined in section twenty-nine: He shall be the chief executive officer and conservator of the peace; shall exercise the powers conferred on sheriffs of counties in suppressing disorder within the city limits; and shall arrest all violators of the laws and ordinances. He shall supervise the conduct of all city officers, examine the grounds of all reasonable complaints against any of them, and cause all of their violations or neglects of duty to be promptly punished, or reported to the proper tribunal for correction. He shall keep the corporate seal, sign all commissions, licenses and permits, and other acts or papers as may, by ordinance, require his certificate; and it shall be his special duty to cause the ordinances of the city to be faithfully and constantly obeyed. These are the general dutise assigned to the Mayor, but the eighteenth section provides that "any ordinance, when passed by councils, shall be signed by the President of each and submitted to the Mayor, who, if he approves the same, shall sign it, and if he does not approve it, he shall return it to the Councils with his objections in writing, whereupon it shall be reconsidered by the Councils, and if passed by each Council by an affirmative vote of not less than three-fifths of the members voting, nor less than a majority of all the members of each Council, it shall be deemed a valid ordinance, the same as if approved and signed by the Mayor.

The officers elected by the voters of the city, or of any ward or district, may be removed from office by a concurrent vote of two-thirds of all the members in each Council; and any officer or agent appointed by or under authority of Councils, may be removed by a concurrent vote of a majority of all the members of each Council. Any member of either Council may be expelled by a two-thirds vote of the body to which he belongs; and in cases of members of Councils, and of elective officers, Councils shall provide by ordinance for making charges and trying the same. Any officer of the city, from the Mayor down, is subject to removal in the manner indicated.

The above are the more important provisions of the consolidation act, but there are others of interest, such as the taxation of all property used for "agricultural purposes" at only two-thirds the rate for other city property; the construction and regulation of pumps, wells and cisterns, to secure a proper supply of water; the keeping of an accurate register of all the marriages and births within the city, and other matters of moment. The act is a very comprehensive one, and ought to be carefully studied by every voter in the city, and especially by those who are now holding, or may hereafter hold, the important position of members of City Councils.

We are aware that since the defeat of the measure at the ballot box in the Northern and Southern Districts the opponents of consolidation in these, as well as in the Central District, have commenced to agitate the subject of a repeal of the entire act. This, they imagine, can be easily accomplished at the next session of the Legislature. It would be well, however, for such persons to reflect upon the fact that before the meeting of the General Assembly the citizens of the consolidated city will hold an election and proceed to organize under the very terms of the act itself. Will it be an easy matter to divest the corporation of its chartered rights? Nay, will it be even possible to revoke and annul the corporate powers thus granted? These are questions that should be satisfactorily answered before the subject of repeal is agitated. There is another matter which may as well be mentioned here. Eminent lawyers adhere to the opinion that consolidation was legally accomplished by the passage of the act, and that the clause providing for a vote of the people did not have any legal force or bearing, and was mere surplusage. It is not intended by the friends of consolidation to insist upon this construction, but, since certain parties in the Central District are determined to test the constitutionality of this act, this aspect of the case will be submitted by the friends of consolidation for the decision of the Supreme Court.

EX-PRESIDENT PIERCE has made an after election speech, in which he says that if the elections mean anything they mean that "the white race—our race—the German, Italian, French, Irish, Scotch and Anglo-Saxon people—are still to be the controlling one on this continent." For an illustration, Mr. PIERCE might have added, look to New York city, where "our race"—particularly the Irish—"rule" in all their loveliness. Read the account of the famous July riots and you will have the particulars.

Lookout Mountain Iron and Steel Company.

We have seen a prospectus of this company, setting forth the great advantages of manufacturing irons and steel in Wills Valley, Ga. We published an article in yesterday's issue respecting the iron resources of that region. If the statements in this prospectus are correct, iron of the most superior quality can be there made inside of ten dollars per ton, and landed in this city for seventeen. This proposed company is represented by a gentleman at present in this city who desires to enlist our capitalists in the enterprise. He will give information to all desiring it, and can be found at the store of R. C. Loomis & Co., 59 Wood street.

What Was the Matter in Ohio?

The Cleveland Leader is one of the most uncompromising radical Republican papers in the country, and perhaps the earliest to propose the Suffrage amendment in Ohio. In the light of these facts the following reasons assigned by the Leader for the result in that State are interesting:

> What are the causes of this reversal—this loss of forty thousand Union majority—this annihilation of a Union majority of nearly two to one in the Legislature? We frankly confess that the great cause of Union loss was the commitment of the Union party to negro suffrage. Much must be allowed, doubtless, to the thorough organization of the Democratic party, and to its incessant work. Every Democratic vote in the State was polled, and every waverer was reached and plied with every possible argument. Something must be charged, also, against the comparative inefficiency of our own State Central Committee, who were very slow about getting to work and made many omissions and blunders. Something, again, must be laid to the violence and indiscretions of some Union speakers. We think that the Union party would have polled three or four thousand more votes if Senator Wade had been kept quiet, and Senator Chandler, of Michigan, had stayed home. The general and prevalent idea among the more ignorant Germans, too, that the Republican party was in some way committed to an anti-lager policy contributed somewhat to our losses. But, after all, the great weight which bore down our party was the negro. The returns of the election demonstrate that the prejudice of color is yet strong in Ohio and in the Republican party, and wherever it was the strongest we find the Democratic gains the largest.

THE N. Y. Tribune is of the opinion that the Cabinet will be re-cast before long. It protests, however, against the change in the Treasury Department. Of Mr. McCulloch it says:

> The country is satisfied with his official action and would look with distrust and apprehension upon his displacement. Its credit has been sustained and that too without seriously impairing the resources or embarrassing the industry of the nation. To bring in a new man now, who should reverse the policy he has pursued, would have a most damaging effect upon the credit of the Government and the general welfare of the country.

For the management of our foreign affairs, the Times thinks Mr. Seward entitled to the thanks of the country and the administration, "but gratitude is a weakness to which neither great communities nor their rulers are subject; and both are quite apt to find obligations to any one man, after a time, exceedingly irksome and annoying."

It further remarks concerning Mr. Seward:

> "Mr. Seward would probably retire upon the first intimation that his place was wanted; and the peace of the country would not be endangered if the powers and duties of his place were confided to other hands. None of the other Cabinet officers would, probably, be very seriously missed; and we presume all of them would consider a chance of retirement as a decided relief."

THE Springfield (Mass.) Republican preaches a short and pertinent sermon on the remark of the Tribune—"Every voter who does not read is a peril." We quote:

> "The Tribune did not intend to make an argument for intelligent suffrage, for it is its habit to sneer at the idea; but if it is true that "every voter who does not read is a peril," what more need be said to establish the right and duty of requiring ability to read as a condition of suffrage. Adversity has its lessons, and one of the lessons of the republican defeats is that equal suffrage should have been presented to the country with the intelligence test, in which case it would not have been considered "a peril," and would not have seriously damaged the party sustaining it. There is yet time to correct the error. Will the Tribune help that way?"

IT is believed that two thousand fraudulent votes were polled in Philadelphia last Tuesday, by means of counterfeit tax receipts or by tax receipts given to illegal voters. In order to prevent future frauds of this character, the Pennsylvania Legislature will be called upon this winter to enact a thorough registry law. The law should be a general one, however, and not confined to a single or few districts.

THE Marietta (O.) Register raises the name of Ulysses S. Grant, of Illinois, for President. It says:

> We do not do this without consideration. He is a man on whom the patriotic people can rely—he is eminently safe—he "fights on this line," as well in peace as in war. As his standard triumphed over "armed treason," so will it float proudly over "unarmed treason."

ACCORDING to rumors in legal circles, there is some prospect that the Supreme Court may reverse the unfortunate decision of Justice Strong, preventing the use of the cars on the first day of the week, in the city of Philadelphia.

DEMOREST for November, fresh and flush with all the latest fashions, has been received by Gildenfenny.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Shakspeare, it seems, is now credited with the discovery of the laws of gravitation, about which there has been much dispute with reference to Newton and Pascal. A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette directs attention to the following passage in "Troilus and Cressida," which is certainly remarkable:

> "But the strong base and building of my love
> Is as the very center of the earth,
> Drawing all things to it."

And the writer observes that in the same play we find the expression, "True as the earth to its center." So that it would really seem as if Shakspeare had anticipated Newton by a hundred years or so in the discovery of one of the greatest of natural truths.

The Charles Dickens fever has already commenced at Boston, and a story is told of one enthusiastic old fellow who wanted to subscribe for seventeen season tickets to the course of readings, provided the price was not to be over $500 a ticket.

> —What we possess and use alone make rich—
> We do not own that which we do not use,
> And thus would most men verily be rich
> Did they not covet what they cannot use,
> And what e'en he who possesses not.

It would really seem that the ancients did surpass their descendants in the perfection of their arts. A fire and burglar proof safe, which has been subjected to a volcanic eruption, has been discovered among the ruins of Pompeii, its contents uninjured. It very much resembles modern safes.

Hecla has been taking a smoke. The brass of which the instruments of a yacht more than two hundred miles distant were composed was discolored, and the inhabitants of Reikavik, a hundred miles from Hecla, were nearly suffocated by the sulphurous fumes.

The route of the yacht which recently reached Cincinnati, hailing from New York, overland route, was as follows: It went up the Hudson to Albany, thence to Buffalo by canal, thence to Erie by lake, thence to Beaver, on the Ohio river, by canal, thence to Cincinnati. It has gone to Louisville, on its way to California and Alaska.

Astor has immortalized himself by his noble library, and Cooper will be honorably remembered for his Institute. A. T. Stewart is about to excel both by erecting, it is said, a great free library for the citizens, to be open every day in the year.

The grand French project, the opening of Isthmus of Suez, will be completed in October, 1869, at a cost of four hundred millions of francs. It is thought the annual revenue will be sixty millions. France has a strong interest in this work, having recently taken possession of Cochin China by military force and strategem.

Lately the workmen employed in excavating a court yard to the Lycee Napoleon, in Paris, came upon a hoard of nearly one thousand Roman coins, all gold, in perfect order and preservation, and belonging to the reigns of Nero, Vitellius, Vespasian, Titus, Trajan, and others, Emperors down to 300 A. PERSONAL.

—Jeff. Davis, who has been living lately at the Rossin House, Toronto, is now in Saint Catherines, which is nearer the Niagara than the other city. Davis, therefore, appears to be approaching the United States, and is probably going slowly to stand his long deferred trial for treason.

—Two more German tragedians, it is said, will visit us next spring. Dawison did so well and Janauschek is likely to succeed so admirably, it is no wonder the Teutonic artistes are directing their eyes to the New World.

—Jarrett, Palmer and Wheatley, managers of the ballet and Niblo's Garden, are said to have made $50,000 apiece by the "Black Crook," and expect to realize $100,000 before the play is withdrawn.

—The residence of the late Sir Frederick Bruce in Washington is said to present a particularly sad appearance, with all its blinds closed and its numerous evidences of life and happiness all gone for ever. Though in reality a superior residence, it is dreadfully disfigured by a huge fantastic porch, which was originally erected by the proprietor, a noted dentist, as a catch-penny advertisement. It was always a wonder in Washington that the late Minister should have consented to occupy such a fantastic home. The house formerly occupied by Sir Frederick's predecessor is now the property of a wealthy negro.

—Queen Victoria has been out riding, accompanied by her daughter, a footman riding behind; and we are told that this is the first time since the Prince Consort's death that she has gone out "so meagerly attended." The poor Queen then can never enjoy the pleasures of solitude. Imagine what a bore it must be always to have four or five people about you.

—The Rev. Octavius Perinchief is the name of an Episcopalian clergyman who is attracting unusual attention in the District of Columbia as a powerful preacher. By a writer in the New York Observer, he has been compared, in the character of his mind, with the great Jeremy Taylor.

—A Mrs. Jaggers has a "baby-farm" at Tottenham, England, where very young children are taken in and done for. This reminds one of Dickins's Mrs. Pipchin, the "child-queller," in Dombey and Son. But Jaggers—what a horrible name it is!

ONWARD, RIGHT ONWARD,

Into the valley of death,
Rode the six hundred,

But larger, by hundreds multiplied into millions, than the doomed band who rode to swift destruction in Tennyson's poem, is the great cavalcade of unhappy beings who are riding into misery, worse than death, hugging that fearful disease FEVER AND AGUE, when by the use of

MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS,

They might, each one, be forever relieved from it, and their physical organization become thoroughly improved by means of a purified blood and healthy condition of the stomach. The legitimate result of using

Mishler's Celebrated Herb Bitters,

Is to ward off Fever and Ague when it is likely to make its appearance, and to effect a radical cure in cases where it has already gained a foothold. It makes no difference how long the victim of this disease has suffered from it, nor how violent the disease itself may be, we are prepared to furnish indubitable evidence that

Mishler's Celebrated Herb Bitters

Will cure it. It is inevitable from the very nature of the medicine; hence there is no longer any need of suffering. Send to your nearest Druggist for these invaluable Bitters, they all sell them.

THE DILEMMA.

BY O. W. HOLMES.

Now, by the blessed Paphian queen,
Who heaves the breast of sweet sixteen;
By every name I cut on bark
Before my morning star grew dark;
By Hymen's torch, by Cupid's dart,
By all that thrills the beating heart;
The bright black eye, the melting blue—
I cannot choose between the two.

I had a vision in my dreams;—
I saw a row of twenty beams;
From every beam a rope was hung,
In every rope a lover swung;
I asked the hue of every eye
That bade each luckless lover die;
Ten shadowy lips said heavenly blue,
And ten accused the darker hue.

I asked a matron which she deemed
With fairest light of beauty beamed;
She answered, some thought both were fair,—
Give her blue eyes and golden hair.
I might have liked her judgement well,
But as she spoke she rang a bell,
And all her girls, nor small nor few,
Came marching in—their eyes were blue.

I asked a maiden; back she flung
The locks that round her forehead hung,
And turned her eye, a glorious one,
Bright as a diamond in the sun,
On me, until beneath its rays
I felt as if my hair would blaze;
She liked all eyes but eyes of green;
She looked at me; what could she mean?

Ah! many lids Love lurks between—
Nor heeds the coloring of his screen;
And when his random arrows fly,
The victim falls, but knows not why.
Gaze not upon his shield of jet,
The shaft upon the string is set;
Look not beneath his azure veil,
Though every limb were cased in mail.

Well, both might make a martyr break
The chain that bound him to the stake;
And both, with but a single ray,
Can melt our very hearts away;
And both, when balanced, hardly seem
To stir the scales, or rock the beam;
But that is dearest all the while,
That wears for us the sweetest smile.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit. By Charles Dickens. With eight illustrations: 12 mo. pp. 522. Boston: Ticknor & Fields, Publishers. 1867. For sale by H. Miner, Fifth street, Pittsburgh.

By a note of Mr. Dickens, on the back of the title page, we learn that by a special arrangement, Ticknor & Fields "have become the only authorized representatives in America of the whole series of his books." They have certainly issued this book, as well as the other two to be named below, in a style worthy of the distinction given them by the author. And the same remark is applicable to the previous volumes issued by them. We deem it a work of supererogation to praise or even to recommend Dickens's books. They have been read so extensively, and are so often the subject of conversation and allusion in literary and social circles, that their popularity may be considered as thoroughly established, and those who have not read them will embrace the earliest opportunity of doing it. To such, as well as to old friends, desiring the freshest and best editions of books, the announcement of the issues of Ticknor & Fields will be agreeable intelligence.

In a preface to this edition of Martin Chuzzlewit, Mr. Dickens makes an apologetic or explanatory remark on the American part of the story, stating that it was not designed to illustrate American character, but only a single side of it—the ludicrous. He disowns the intention to caricature us in the representation.

BARNABY RUDGE and HARD TIMES. By Charles Dickens. With original illustrations by S. Eytinge, Jr. Boston. Ticknor & Fields, 1867. Sold in Pittsburgh by W. A. Gildenfenney, Fifth street.

BLEAK HOUSE. By Charles Dickens. With illustrations by S. Eytinge, Jr. Boston. Ticknor & Fields, 1867. Sold in Pittsburgh by H. Miner, Fifth street.

These two volumns are part of another series of Dickens's works in progress of publication by the same house. They are of smaller form and are printed in smaller type. But in every respect, as to paper, impression and binding, they are the peers in beauty of the larger books, and are issued under the same authorization, by Mr. Dickens, as the other series.

THE Political Works of John Greenleaf Whittier. Complete edition. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. 1867. Sold by H. Miner, Pittsburgh.

This is, we judge, a compilation of all Whittier's pieces. It is published in the neatest style—a diamond edition—resplendent in green and gold. The author is a favorite with a large and increasing class of readers, in consequence of his unquestioned earnestness in the cause of liberty and right, as well as for the purity of sentiment that runs through all his poems. In this volume, in addition to the pieces in previous editions, will be found those patriotic effusions and appeals that were written during the late rebellion.

In a volume which, although not large, embraces so great a number of pieces, arrangement is of some consequence. This is lacking in the present volume, unless it be an arrangement by dates of composition. Hence there are four or five collections of Miscellaneous Poems and as many collections of Occasional Poems, inserted in different parts of the volume. It is not easy to see why they are thus separated, as all might be properly placed together under a general head. This, it is true, is not of much consequence, but the hand of an editor would have arranged it better. The friends of Whittier and the admirers of his party will be gratified, however, to find his numerous fugitive pieces here collected in a handsome little volume, for the entertainment of their hours and half hours of reading time.

AN ARCTIC BOAT JOURNEY, IN THE AUTUMN OF 1854. By Isaac J. Hayes, M. D., Surgeon of the Second Grinnell Expedition, Author of "The Open Polar Sea." New edition enlarged and illustrated, 312pp. 12mo. Boston: Ticknor & Fields, 1867. Sold by Davis, Clarke & Co., Pittsburgh.

Public curiosity will never be satisfied about the hyperborean regions of the Polar Sea, till further expeditions shall have offered further knowledge in relation to them. Once fairly aroused by the heroic achievements of the lamented Doctor Kane, and further stimulated by those of Doctor Hayes, the public mind eagerly lays hold of all the reliable information presented to it, with reference to the wild, frozen regions of the extreme North, and hence has called for this new, enlarged and illustrated edition of Dr. Hayes's Boat Journey. In response to that call, the Publishers have issued this beautiful volume in its present attractive style. The numerous illustrative plates embodied in this edition give it a decided value. We note with a sort of national pleasure the incident, as well as the illustration of the planting of the United States Flag on the most Northern land known on the globe, which was discovered by Dr. Hayes, May 28th, 1854, and again revisited in 1861, when he extended his journey two degrees further North.

As a narrative of incidents, painful and perilous, intermingled with those of an amusing character among the seamen and the natives of the Icy North, the Arctic Boat Journey will be read with thrilling interest. Its value, however, does not stop here. As an aid and stimulus to further explorations, the success of Dr. Hayes will be highly useful.

RAINBOWS FOR CHILDREN, edited by L. Maria Child, with twenty-eight illustrations. Boston: Ticknor & Fields, 1867. Sold by H. Miner, Pittsburgh.

We are quite willing to indorse Mrs. Child's approval of these little Fairy stories for little folks. She says "their liveliness and simplicity will, I am sure, make them great favorites with children, while more mature minds will often perceive a wise significance within the poetic beauty of the style." Indeed, the editress could scarcely give a higher praise of the stories than by expressing, as she does, with generous frankness and admiration, the risk that they were written by herself. The book is issued in handsome style and is designed for Christmas and New Years present for children.

GRIMMS GOBLINS, selected from household stories of the Brothers Grimms, with illustrations in colors, from Cruikshank's Designs. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. 1867. H. Miner, Pittsburgh.

These stories are designed also for the amusement of children. They are fairy stories, full of impossible incident, and not without good sentiment intermingled—all told in a style sufficiently simple to receive the attention and arouse and justify the wonder of children. We cannot say, however, that it is the kind of book that accords best with our notion of amusement even for children.

THE BANKERS'

AND

MERCHANTS'

GRAND

Presentation Enterprise,

HAS PROVEN

A WONDERFUL SUCCESS.

CAPITAL, TICKETS AND PRIZES

INCREASED FROM

$1,287,148 to $1,500,000

Making this the most Stupendous and Successful Presentation Scheme ever inaugurated in the World.

Our Agents have received orders for over 100,000 Tickets more than our original issue, and the Managers being desirous of filling the orders and supplying the demand, have decided to increase the tickets from 1,287,148 to 1,500,000.

The Committee appointed at the first Concert have decided to distribute the Prizes at the third and last Concert, which will take place at

IRVING HALL,

IN NEW YORK CITY,

ON

Thursday, Oct. 24th, 1867.

TICKETS ONE DOLLAR EACH.

A Prize with Every Ticket.

PROSPECTUS.

A number of the leading Bankers and Merchants of New York, in consideration of the great success which has attended many of the Charitable Presentation Entertainments of the day, have formed themselves into a company, with the view of inaugurating an enterprise which, while it shall return them a fair profit, shall offer greater advantages to ticket-purchasers than any yet presented; and which being conducted upon a perfectly legitimate and business basis, shall be free from those objectionable features which have characterized many of these enterprises.

To this end they have consigned the sale of tickets, and the registering of the same, to Clark, Webster & Co., Bankers and Managers, No. 62 Broadway, New York, who will keep the records in their custody until the day of the Grand Presentation Entertainment, when they will be handed over to a committee selected by the audience to make an impartial distribution of presents

A reference to the number of presents and the general plan of distribution, given below, will convince even the most skeptical of the great advantages which will accrue to all who participate in the enterprise; and the Commercial and Financial standing of the Company, and the Managers and Bankers thereof, will, they hope, prove a sufficient guaranty of the fairness and impartiality with which everything in connection with the scheme will be conducted, and that the interests of ticket-holders will be most strictly watched over and guarded. In fact, it is the desire of the Managers to conduct every transaction for the mutual benefit of whoever shall purchase a ticket, and scrupulously to avoid any and everything which could in the slightest degree diminish the profits which are likely to accrue to all who invest.

BRICK MACHINE,

PITTSBURGH BRICK MACHINE

AND

BRICK MANUFACTURING CO.

This Machine takes the clay direct from the bank, (without the preparation, by soaking, necessary for "soft mud" machines), and tempers it thoroughly, pressing, in steel moulds, brick stiff enough to be packed up eight high in the yard as made. For cutting with the trowel, bearing hard usage, and making a strong, true wall, there are no better brick known. The cost of making them by this machine is from 95 cents to $1 10 per 1,000, according to the rates of wages. This we guarantee. The machine is built entirely of iron and steel; and in the best style for strength and permanent use in working clay. Apply for circulars, giving full information, at the office,

CITY MATTERS.

ANOTHER PITTSBURGH VICTIM.—By telegraph we learn that Mr. Gerald Morrow, of Pittsburgh, died on Sunday last at Vicksburg, Mississippi, of that terrible epidemic, yellow fever, which is now raging so fearfully in the South.

DEATH OF PITTSBURGHERS IN NEW ORLEANS.—On Sunday, October 6th, Eleanor H. Pentecost, wife of Joseph Pentecost, aged twenty-three years, died at New Orleans, of yellow fever. On the same day, John J. Linnot died of the same disease, aged twenty-one years.

A PARTIAL HEARING.—George W. Waters and John B. Wright, the men who were arrested at the Union Depot Saturday night, on a charge of passing counterfeit money, had a partial hearing yesterday before United States Commissioner Bailey, and were held for a further hearing on Thursday next.

THE BAROUCHE THIEVES.—Detective Furgeson, of Erie, arrived in town, from Greensburg, last evening with George Blessing and Frank Graham, charged with running away from Erie, Pa., with a barouche and two horses belonging to Mr. Thomas Lennon of that city. The prisoners were lodged in the tombs, and will be taken to Erie to-day.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.—The following officers elect of Birmingham Lodge, No. 48, I. O. of O. F., were installed at the last meeting of the Lodge: N. G., Matthew Felker; V. G., Joseph H. Burtt; Secretary, Nicholas Jones; Assistant Secretary, Patterson Brown; Treasurer, Matthew Pate; Delegate to Grand Lodge, Thomas Ford.

MECHANICS' LYCEUM.—An interesting meeting of the Mechanics' Lyceum, of Birmingham, was held at their hall on Saturday evening. The question, "Is there any good reason why the late election should have gone against the Republican party?" was selected for debate at the next meeting. The affirmative will be represented by A. Jaquay, and the negative by D. C. Ripley, Sr.

THE MANCHESTER M. E. CHURCH.—The amount of money subscribed on Sunday to liquidate the debt of the new Union Methodist Episcopal Church, in the Fifth ward, Allegheny City, reached about five thousand dollars, making the total amount subscribed thus far twenty-three thousand dollars. The debt yet remaining unpaid is about seven thousand dollars.

DEATH OF A GALLANT OFFICER.—Major George W. Fetterman, an officer of the regular army, died on Sunday at the residence of his brother, No. 41 Smithfield street, from the effects of disease contracted in the service. Major Fetterman entered the army during the war, and leaves a good record behind him. Notice of his funeral will be found in another column.

TRADES' ASSEMBLY MEETING.—The Allegheny County Trades' Assembly held a meeting at their hall on Saturday evening. Delegates from the Hollowware Glassblowers' Union, Typographical Union No. 7, and the Allegheny County Teachers' Association, were admitted to seats. A communication from the American Industrial League was received, read and filed. Nominations were made for officers for the ensuing term, and after the transaction of some unimportant business the Assembly adjourned.

INTERESTING PRESENTATION.—Mrs. Mary O. Peterson, who has been a teacher in the Sunday School connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Braddock's Fields, being about to remove to New Orleans, the pupils of her class, on Sunday morning, presented her with a handsome and beautiful copy of the Holy Bible, as a mark of their esteem. The gift was presented on behalf of the donors by Mr. A. V. Coale, and was received on the part of the recipient by Mr. Mark Bennett. Several other gentlemen delivered addresses suitable to the occasion. The Bible was an elegant one, and bore the following inscription: "Mary O. Peterson, from her Sunday School class of the M. E. Church, Braddock's Fields."

SEVERE FALL.—A German named Albert Pagel met with a severe accident about three o'clock on Sunday afternoon. He, with some others, was sitting on a paling fence in front of Mr. Beilstein's residence, on the corner of East Lane and Canal streets, Allegheny, when he lost his balance and fell into the cellar hole, a distance of fifteen feet or more, sustaining severe injuries. He was removed to the residence of his brother-in-law, on Main street, where he boards, and Drs. Ziegler and Holtzman called in. On examination it was found that his jaw bone had been fractured, his thigh bone broken, besides being otherwise severely injured. He is now doing as well as could be expected.

PLYMOUTH CHURCH.—We are glad to learn that this church has secured a Pastor, the Rev. H. B. Ensworth, of Andover, Mass., having accepted the unanimous call extended to him. A few years since Mr. Ensworth left the profession of law, in which, while but a young man, he was elected for three years to the Legislature of his native State, to enter the work of the Gospel ministry, when he felt the Great Master had called him to labor in his vineyard. He is represented to bring more than ordinary ability, with much of Christian zeal, to work, and we trust will do much to make up the loss to our city, which it has sustained in the calling away to other fields recently of so many of our prominent pulpit lights. We wish both pastor and church much prosperity in their new relationship.

Disgraceful Affair in Allegheny.

A disgraceful affair occurred in Allegheny, about noon yesterday, between two nymphs du pave named Belle Kelly and Cal. Black, the latter colored, in which the former was very seriously injured. It appears that they had been imbibing liquor very freely, and were staggering along the streets together very drunk. When in front of the Western Penitentiary, on Ohio street, they got into a quarrel, Cal. accusing Belle of having told lies about her. This Belle denied, when a disgraceful scene ensued. Cal. ran into the street, and picking a large boulder hurled it at Belle, striking the latter on the forehead and producing a severe wound. She then picked up a brick and also threw it at her, striking Belle on the back of the head, cutting a large and frightful gash. Dr. D. N. Rankin was called in and dressed the wounds, which although very severe are not considered dangerous. Some of the officers in the Penitentiary seeing the assault, ran out and arrested Cal. and conveyed her to the Mayor's office, where she yet remains.

Interesting Wedding Ceremony.

Yesterday afternoon at half-past one o'clock, a wedding was celebrated at the First Methodist Church, (Rev. Alexander Clark, A. M., pastor,) and was witnessed by a large company of the friends of the happy couple. The newly united pair were the Rev. J. B. Walker, of Mount Vernon, Ohio, Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, and Mrs. Arpha Rinehart, of this city. The marriage service was impressively performed by the Rev. Alexander Clark, A. M., assisted by the Rev. V. Lucas, and Rev. Mr. Robinson. At the close of the ceremony the organist of the First Church executed Mendelsohn's "Wedding March," from the "Midsummer's Night Dream," with fine effect, during which the bride and groom received the congratulations of their host of friends and their departure upon their wedding tour. We sincerely wish them a long and pleasant voyage down the stream of time.

THE ALLEGHENY CEMETERY.

Great Improvements---More Land Purchased---A Mausoleum Built by Hon. J. K. Moorhead---New Monuments.

Allegheny Cemetery is one of the most beautiful places in this vicinity, and may justly be considered as one of the finest cemeteries in the country.

Pleasant avenues, shady walks and beautiful lakes have been built, and the number of vaults and stately monuments largely increased during the past year.

At this season of the year the cemetery presents a charming appearance. The leaves of the maple, willow, chestnut and oak trees having been touched by the frost, are assuming a variety of colors, and the view, when looking up the principal valley, though always beautiful, is at this time peculiarly so. A fine subject for the painter is presented, and one of our enterprising artists improving the opportunity may be seen, nearly every day with his canvass and brushes, seated on a camp stool, sketching the daily varying shades produced by frosty nights. He complains that the leaves are now falling too fast and the foliage changing so rapidly that it is difficult to finish the pictures; trees that are covered with leaves one day offer only naked branches on the next.

Allegheny Cemetery was incorporated by the State Legislature on the 24th of April, 1844, and dedicated on the 24th of September, 1845. During the first twelve years the receipts of the company amounted to $204,066 46, and the expenditures to $178,983 80, leaving a surplus in the year 1857 of $25,282 66. At that time the grounds contained nearly one hundred and seventy acres. Purchases have been made since then, and there are now nearly three hundred acres enclosed. No report has been published since the year 1857; the next, which will be made out during the coming year, will contain an interesting account of the changes and improvements during the past ten years.

The ground was broken for the first interment in September, 1845. Since that time the number of interments and removals have been over thirteen thousand.

A MAUSOLEUM.

Among the burial places lately made, the mausoleum built by Hon. J. K. Moorhead, is one of the most costly and magnificent. It has been constructed at a cost of about $22,000, and built on a plan different from any ever made in the United States. Work was commenced on it nearly two years ago by Mr. C. Miller, proprietor of the Keystone Marble Works, and since that time it has been pushed steadily forward, a large number of men being continually employed. Last winter a shed was built which sheltered the workmen while carrying on the work. Mr. Miller states that it will be completed in a few weeks. The mausoleum is situated on a pleasant knoll overlooking one of the finest lakes in the Cemetery, and a more beautiful location could not have been selected. The building is of Freeport stone, two stories, one above and the other below ground, and is built in an octagon shape. The vault, which is below ground, is eighteen feet square and twelve feet high; branching outwards from this open space are the cells for burial purposes, each six feet deep, and thirty-six in number. They are so built that the number can be increased to sixty if necessary. The bottom of the vault is laid with large flag stones, and the walls are two feet in diameter. The upper floor is made of two large flag stones, each twenty feet in length and nine feet in width, weighing nearly ten tons. This heavy floor rests on two stone columns, each twelve feet high and one foot thick.

The portion of the building which rises above the ground presents an imposing appearance. At the entrance is built an arched gothic portico. The large arch is cut out of solid stone, and supported by solid stone columns, ten feet high. Over the door the name "Moorhead" is carved. Porticos of the same design are placed in front of windows on three other sides. Niches for the reception of statues are also made in the remaining sides. Above the porticos and niches is a heavy cornice, between this and the dome a space of about five feet is made up of tracery work. The dome will be made of stone work, contain stained glass windows and a Gothic finale. The heighth of the building will be twenty-eight feet.

A stone railing enclosing a space sixty feet in diameter surrounds the mausoleum.

About eight hundred tons of stone have already been used and more will be necessary before the building is completed. The two large flag stones of which the floor is built, could not be drawn up the hill by horses, and a windlass was used.

The mausoleum is considered by all who have seen it, as one of the finest and most substantial structures of the kind in the country.

NEW MONUMENTS.

Two fine monuments twenty-seven feet high, of different designs, but presenting a similar appearance, have been lately placed by Messrs. Lloyd and Black, in two beautiful adjoining lots in the upper portion of the Cemetery.

The mattock and the spade have been freely used during the past summer, and considerable improvement has been made in the lower part of the grounds in the way of planting shade trees, making avenues etc. These changes and improvements have been conducted under the supervision of Mr. John Chislett, who has been Superintendent of the Cemetery since 1845, and his able assistant, John Chislett, Jr. It is a source of gratification to know that under their direction the already beautiful grounds are yearly becoming more beautiful.

Those who wish to enjoy a pleasant afternoon, will find themselves repaid for their trouble by paying a visit to Allegheny Cemetery.

NEW SKATING RINK.

Organization of the Keystone Skating Rink Association--Progress of the Enterprise.

During the last season the project of establishing a Skating Rink in this vicinity was broached, and we are gratified to learn that it has now assumed a shape which guarantees its success. The stock having all been subscribed, the stockholders met last week at the Monongahela House for organization. Mr. D. W. C. Bidwell was called to the chair, and Mr. C. E. Speer chosen Secretary. After the adoption of the By-Laws, the following gentlemen were elected a Board of Directors: Messrs. C. E. Speer, B. Bakewell, Jr., M. K. Moorhead, C. L. Caldwell, D. W. C. Bidwell, Algernon S. Bell and James M. Knap. Upon the adjournment of the meeting of Stockholders, the Board of Directors met and elected the following officers: President—James M. Knap; Vice President—Charles L. Caldwell; Secretary—Charles E. Speer.

The capital stock of the Association is $40,000—4,000 shares of $10 each. A lot on Robinson street, Allegheny, has been secured, and permission granted by Councils for the erection of the necessary buildings. The contract for the erection of the building has been awarded to Messrs. Hervey & Johnson, who contemplate commencing the work during the present week, and will have it completed within sixty days.

Many persons, not fully understanding the plan of the rink, regard all money invested as simply a donation, but that it will prove remunerative and pay a liberal per centage, has been sufficiently demonstrated by the profits derived from our skating parks last season. A rink is a place for skating under cover, and possesses many advantages over a skating park. The term is of Scotch origin, and is applied to the space appropriated for playing the game of "Curling." In Chicago, Detroit, and in Canada, where rinks have been in use for one or more winters, the stock readily commands a premium of from twenty to thirty per cent. Large rinks have been erected during the summer in St. Louis and Cincinnati, and although they have never been used, the stock can be sold at a premium.

The Keystone Skating Rink will cover a space of two hundred by one hundred and ten feet, and the building will contain about 250,000 feet of lumber. It will cover 22,000 square feet with a skating surface of 17,000 square feet. It will be provided with elegantly furnished reception rooms, waiting rooms, etc., and in the second story will be a mammoth refreshment room for the accommodation of the guests. During the summer season the water will be drawn off, and a floor laid, affording an excellent spacious room for holding parties, meetings, conventions, etc.

It is proposed to have the rink completed early in December, and the votaries of this most popular and healthful amusement may reasonably expect having unusual opportunities during the winter months of enjoying themselves. The ice being protected from snow and rain, will last much longer than upon the ponds, and the visitors will be protected in a great measure from the inclemency of the weather. We predict for the rink a grand success.

Court Proceedings.

CRIMINAL COURT—JUDGES STERRETT AND STOWE.

Edward Quinn and Mary Quinn, his wife, were tried on a charge of keeping a disorderly house in Lower St. Clair township. Mrs. Burk, the prosecuting witness testified that she was a neighbor of the defendants, that they moved into the house now occupied by them in the month of June, and since that time there had been several drunken rows. Other neighbors were called and corroborated the statements of Mrs. Burk.

The same parties were indicted on two charges of selling liquor without license and were found guilty.

Martha Gray was placed on trial on an indictment for burglariously entering the house of Mr. Muller, in McKeesport, and stealing articles therefrom. The jury found a verdict of guilty of larceny.

James Johnson was arraigned on a charge of stabbing a man named George Washington. The difficulty occurred on Wylie street. The jury had not agreed on verdict at the adjournment of Court.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS—JUDGE MELLON.

The first case taken up was that of James Biddle vs. James Taylor.

This was an action to recover the price of a lot of wheat, alleged to be due. The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $114 20.

Jane McCune and James McCune vs. Peter Black. This was an action in ejection for a lot of ground in South Pittsburgh. Plaintiff took a non-suit.

Police Intelligence.

[Before Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny.]

HAD A HEARING.

Scott Geisinger, who was arrested on Friday, charged with raising a disturbance in Fry's saloon, in the Allegheny Diamond, had a hearing yesterday, when the Mayor inflicted on him a fine of ten dollars and costs, upon the payment of which he was discharged.

[Before Alderman Taylor.]

KNOCKED DOWN.

Mr. August Darrah brought suit yesterday against John O'Brien, charging him with assault and battery. Mr. Darrah is a stranger in the city, and alleges that while passing along Penn street the defendant stepped up to him, and without saying a word deliberately knocked him down. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of O'Brien, who lives in the Fifth ward.

[Before Mayor McCarthy.]

LARCENY OF CLOTHING.

Hugh Connor yesterday lodged an information for larceny against one William Kerr, alleging that he stole from him an overcoat, valued at forty dollars, and a pair of pantaloons, valued at sixteen dollars. A warrant was issued, but Kerr has left for parts unknown.

OBTAINING GOODS UNDER FALSE PRETENSES.

George Gungert, keeper of a tailoring establishment on Smithfield street, charged L. J. Shaler with obtaining goods under false pretenses. Deponent alleges that the defendant obtained from him some goods, giving him an order on Wm. Coleman, of Allegheny. Shaler had represented that he was employed as a music teacher in Mr. Coleman's family, and that he had money coming to him from Mr. Coleman. Upon presenting the order to Mr. Coleman, the prosecutor was informed by him that he did not know Shaler, and that he never was employed by him as a music teacher—hence the suit. The accused was arrested and held to bail for a hearing.

[Before Alderman Mullin, of Allegheny.]

ALLEGED ATTEMPTED FRAUD.

Mr. E. F. A. Faulhaber appeared at the office of this Alderman yesterday and instituted suit against Wm. Springer, charging him attempted fraud. The prosecutor, in his information, states that about a month since the defendant's wife died, and the defendant being in indigent circumstances at the time, the prosecutor loaned him one hundred and thirty dollars to defray the funeral expenses. From information received the deponent had reason to believe that the defendant was about quitting the State, leaving the bill unpaid, and with the evident intention of defrauding his creditors. The accused was arrested, but the case was settled by the defendant giving security for the payment of the money and paying the costs in the case.

WIFE BEATING.

Hannah Dawson lodged complaint against her husband, Brown Dawson, charging him with assault and battery. Brown is charged with having assaulted his wife on the 10th inst., without any provocation whatever, striking her a severe blow in the face. He was committed to jail for a hearing this afternoon, in default of three hundred dollars bail.

ALLEGED FALSE REPRESENTATIONS.

Andrew Graham was charged with false pretenses, on oath of Charles H. Snyder, a resident of the Fourth ward, Allegheny. The prosecutor alleges that on the 4th inst. he paid Graham twenty-five dollars for a breast-pin, which the defendant represented was set with a diamond, and which afterwards proved to be false. The breastpin was purchased by the defendant representing that he was greatly in want of money at the time and that he would redeem it, which he afterwards refused to do. The accused was arrested but the case was amicably settled before the time appointed for a hearing.

[Before Alderman Neillie, of Allegheny.]

ALLEGED EXTORTION AND PERJURY.

Henry Conrade lodged complaint before this magistrate, against officer Peter Bolster, a member of Alderman Neillie's police, charging him with extortion. It appears that officer Bolster had a search warrant for some property which had been stolen. Conrade had been hired by a man named John Fritch to do some digging, and was sent to the latter's premises to get a shovel. On coming away with the shovel, Conrade was arrested by officer Bolster, on suspicion of committing a theft, it appearing that the shovel had been stolen. When the circumstances in the case had been ascertained, Conrade was released from custody. In his information, Conrade alleged that before releasing him, officer Bolster had extorted twenty-five cents from him, on condition of permitting him to depart. A hearing was had in the case, and the magistrate considering that there were no grounds for the charge, it was dismissed at the cost of the prosecutor.

Officer Bolster then entered a suit against Conrade charging him with perjury, in swearing that he had received money from him as stated above. The case was held for a hearing.

TYCOON TOWNSHIP, Beaver Co., Pa.,
October 11, 1867.

I cheerfully add my testimony to the efficacy of Dr. Sargent's Diuretic or Backache Pills. I have used them for the last twenty years, and have always found immediate relief from pain in the back, arising from affection of the kidneys. I am now over 60 years of age, and have kept myself in good health by their occasional use. I have frequently advised the use of these pills to my neighbors complaining of this trouble, and know of over twenty cases where permanent cures have been effected.

AFFLICTED READ.—The Indian Herb Doctor continues his labors in this city in behalf of distressed humanity, and is meeting with a success in treating the crowds who flock to his office, of the most unexampled character. His cures are wonderful; too much so to believe, were they not attested by the certificates of patients of undoubted verasity and the highest respectability. His office is densely crowded with men and women, representing every grade and condition of life—men, women and children; the professional and the poor laborer, the rich lady and the hard-worked seamstress alike share the benefits of his knowledge and skill. Read the testimonials we have published heretofore. They show the great good that follows Doctor Tumblety's treatment much better than any words we can use. His medicines work on the system like magic. Consumption and kindred diseases, that baffle the most skillful, are permanently cured by the great Indian Herb Doctor. His office is 194 Liberty street.

An Autumn Suggestion.

Now, as heavy fogs arise and searching winds commence to blow; now, as the human body, exhausted like inanimate nature by the heats of summer begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the inclement winter makes its trying onset; NOW, is the time for a preparatory course of the best acclimating medicine in existence, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Fever and Ague is rampant in all parts of the country. Quinine, the physicians admit, will not quell the phase of the disease which at present pervades the entire West. It is well that it is so, for the remedy (so-called) is deadlier than the malady. But if quinine is inefficient in intermittent fevers, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is irresistible. It would be safe to make a contract, under heavy penalties, that any "Fever-and-Ague District" should be exempted from the disorder for any particular time, provided every inhabitant would take the BITTERS according to directions, during the term of the contract. There has never been an instance in which this sterling invigorant and anti-febrile medicine has failed to ward off the complaint, when taken duly as a protection against malaria. Hundreds of physicians have abandoned all the official specifics and now prescribe this harmless vegetable tonic, and nothing else as preventive and cure for all the forms of chills and fever. Vigor is the thing most needful in these cases as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affection, and HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are the safest, surest, and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
MONDAY EVENING, October 14, 1867.

Our general markets continue very quiet, and the amount of business transacted extremely small for the season. Trade is still from hand to mouth, as business is entirely confined to orders for small lots. The flour market continues buoyant, and the demand fair, with but light receipts, especially of the better grades, but it must not be inferred that there is a very large trade doing—any extra receipts would lower prices—unless there was a greater demand than at present. Grains have advanced generally, owing to light receipts. In bacon, lard and lard oil there continues a fair demand.

The receipts of some of the leading articles of produce per river and rail, since our last, were as follows: Flour 972 bbls; apples 327 bbls; cheese 120 bxs; corn 1,018 sacks; barley 1,031 sacks; rye 100 sacks; oats 785 sacks, and butter 30 packages.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale store prices, unless otherwise noted:

BACON—Trade moderate and steady: sales reported of 1,000 lbs shoulders at 14½@14¾c; 3 000 lbs sides at 17c, and 5,000 lbs sugar cured hams at 24½c ₩ lb.

LARD—Sales noted of 15 tierces at 14½c, with a steady market.

LARD OIL—Sale noted of 45 bbls No. 1 L. O. at $1 15, and 10 bbls No. 2 at 95c ₩ gallon.

HAY—A fair demand, and sales reported of loose at the city scales at $16 to $20@21 ₩ ton.

BUTTER—Prices continue high under light receipts. Sales noted of 400 lbs choice roll at 40c; 225 lbs do at 39c, and several purchases at 30@35c ₩ lb.

EGGS—Prices advancing under light receipts. Sales were generally made at 23@25c ₩ dozen.

APPLES—Sales reported of 26 bbls choice at prices ranging from $3 50@4 00 ₩ bbl, and 250 bbls choice at $3 50 ₩ bbl.

CRANBERRIES—We note sales of 5 bbls cultivated at $13 00 ₩ bbl, and several bbls at $12 50@14 00 ₩ bbl.

POTATOES—Sales reported of choice Irish at $1 00@1 65 ₩ bushel, and Jersey sweet at $5 00 ₩ barrel.

ONIONS—Choice onions, in good sized lots, from first hands, may be quoted at $1 50 ₩ bushel.

CORN—The market is hardly as active. We noted sales of 2 cars F. O. B. at $1 30. Some holders are asking for shelled $1 32 ₩ bushel, whilst others sold as low as $1 28 ₩ bushel, delivered.

OATS—Receipts moderate. Sales at the depot were made at 69@70c ₩ bushel (an advance), and retailing from store at 75c ₩ bushel.

BARLEY—There is a good demand, principally for the Eastern market. We note sales of 2 cars No. 1 spring barley, F. O. B., from Elevator, at $1 38 ₩ bushel. The general sales of broken lots, from depot, were made at $1 35@1 36 ₩ bushel, and from wagons at $1 30@1 35 ₩ bushel.

RYE—The market is advancing. Sales of round lots for Eastern shipment of No. 1, at $1 45, and extra choice, sales of 500 bushels rejected at $1 50 ₩ bushel. Holders are generally asking $1 50 ₩ bush.

WHEAT—Receipts very light, and prices advancing with no trade reported, excepting to millers, who are paying for the best red winter, $2 40 ₩ bush, and for choice white wheat $2 50 ₩ bush.

FLOUR—There is no excitement in the flour market, but a fair trade doing at last quotations, with but light receipts of choice brands. We quote winter wheat brands, from store, at $12 50@12 75, and spring brands at $10 75@11 50 ₩ bbl. The following are the Pearl Mill prices, the same as the City Mills, wholesale and retail, for standard flour:

IRON.

NEW YORK.

The Iron Age says that the reports from England speak cheerfully of demand there, and of the prices which are commanded. This, we suppose, foreshadows a maintenance at least of present rates, and this, with the present high premium on gold, favors our American producers.

In Belgium trade is dull, but in France there seems considerable activity, not only in iron and steel production, but the manufacture of machinery. The Terre Noire Company have on hand orders for 30,000 tons of Bessemer steel, showing how largely the production of steel is being developed in France.

The reports from our domestic markets all speak of active demand and prices well maintained. No very large trade is looked for, but it is plain that the requirements of the country will be large, and that the people have the means to supply them. In the New York market business has been quiet, but without any disposition to reduce rates. The supply of Scotch is fair, but no large sales have been made. American No. 1 is not abundant, and No. 2 is scarce and in demand with upward tendency. We have heard of one sale of 1,000 tons No. 1 Crane, and large transactions in American rails—500 tons delivered here at $81, and 1,000 tons delivered at Nashville at $90. Bars are steady but no large sales are reported.

We append the following report furnished that paper:

The market has been quiet during the past week, and prices were hardly as firm; yet, with concessions, buyers for investment or consumption are always ready. Business, though quiet, as compared with many past seasons, is healthy and good. Some fear is expressed that the crops in the West have not been as good as represented, and that trade from that section will not hold out as well as anticipated. From the Southern States trade will remain quiet till the epidemic there prevailing shall subside.

Ingot Copper—Quiet at 25 to 26c to 26½c.

Pig Iron—American, with very moderate demand, is firm at $44 00 to $45 00 for best brands, one extra; and $38 00 to $40 00 for two extra. Forge pig irons are quiet at $35 00 to $40 00. Common brands of No. 1 iron are offered at $40 00 to $42 00; but these are unknown, and several of them no softer than No. 2 hard of good brands.

Scotch is selling at $45@48, with a moderate demand only.

Bar iron quiet at

English and American refined $90@95.
do do common 82@85.

Scrap iron is dull at $48@50.

Old rails wanting, and prices are nominal: old car wheels are wanted, prices nominal.

Spelter, with advancing prices in Europe, is more firmly held here, with very light stocks, and little on the way. It is quotable at $6 45@6 62, gold; prices below importing cost of best brands. Store lots 9½@9¾c currency.

Lead dull at 6¼@6½c, gold; store lots 6½@9¾c, currency.

Tin—The gold price has advanced to 26c; currency prices run from 37 to 37½c.

Antimony has advanced to 14½ to 15c currency, ₩ lb.

BOSTON.

The market for pig iron is steady at former quotations, says the Bulletin, with a fair consumptive demand, though the sales are mostly in small lots from yard. There have been further considerable receipts of foreign at New York, and the stocks of scotch are ample for present use. But American pig continues scarce, at all points, and is taken by consumers and speculators as fast as received. Prices are very firm, and will probably advance as soon as the stocks of foreign become reduced to a smaller compass.

In manufactured iron there is no change to note. All descriptions are in fair supply; but only a few articles in the hardware, railway and ship chandlery lines are selling to any extent.

Scotch pig is quiet with sales of No. 1, in small lots from store, at $42@46 ₩ ton for the various brands. American is firm and in good demand, with sales of retail lots at $45@48 ₩ ton for the different numbers. Charcoal pig is selling at $50@60 ₩ ton, as to brand. Bar is quiet and steady, with sales of English and American, from store, at $95@100 ₩ ton for common, and $105@110 for refined. Railroad iron is firm at $53@54 ₩ ton, gold, for English, and $81@82, currency, for American. Cast steel is selling at 18@23c ₩ lb for English, and 21@23c for American. Anchors are selling at 8½@9c ₩ lb; chain cables (⅞@2 inches thick), 8¼@8c ₩ lb; coil chains (5/16@1¼ inches thick), 13½@8½c ₩ lb. Boiler plates selling at 7½c for flanges, 5¾c for C No. 1, and 5¼c ₩ lb for common and tank. Russia sheet is firm, with sales at 13@13½c, gold, and 20@21c, currency. English and American do are selling at 6½@10c ₩ lb for assorted sizes. Old iron is selling at $1 50@1 70 ₩ 100 lbs for cast, and $2@2 12½ for scrap.

WOOL.

BOSTON.

The Boston wool market, we learn from the Bulletin, is dull, and prices of nearly all grades are weak. Long-stapled combing wools and very select lots of fine fleece are in small stock, but other grades of staple are in excess of the present wants of consumption, and continue to be pressed on the market by weak holders—and by some holders who are not exactly weak, but only wanting in confidence and anxious to get out whole and save their advances.

Manufacturers are now preparing to change their machinery, and will soon be in the market for a better grade of staple, suited to the production of light spring goods. There can be scarcely a doubt that, in the absence of high grade foreign wool, the entire domestic clip will be wanted for consumption before the end of the season; and hence there would seem to be no good cause for panic or necessity of making great sacrifices, on the part of those holders who are able to bide their time and await the demand which is only in abeyance.

Sales of domestic for the week have been moderate and foot up about 700,000 lbs, at a range of 40@55c for fleece and 30@55c for the various grades of pulled. Included are 4,000 lbs fine Ohio fleece at 50c; 11,000 lbs medium delaine do, 47c; 20,000 lbs extra do, 51c; 166,000 lbs fine do, 51c; 4,000 lbs heavy do, 45c; 10,000 lbs extra and double extra do, 53c; 2,000 lbs double extra do, 57½c; 17,000 lbs coarse Michigan, 39c; 5,000 lbs do, 40c; 1,000 lbs medium to fine do, 44½c; 8,000 lbs fine do, 50c; 3,000 lbs mixed Iowa, 40c; 2,000 lbs Western unwashed do, 28c; 2,500 lbs do, 28½c; 5,000 lbs coarse do, 37½c; 2,000 lbs fine do, 41c; 5,000 lbs coarse Wisconsin, 40c; 3,000 lbs fine do, 43c; 5,000 lbs do, 44c; 10,000 lbs medium do, 42c; 3,000 lbs light unwashed do, 30c; 50,000 lbs extra and above Pennsylvania, 57c; 25,000 lbs double extra do, 58c; 2,000 lbs fine co 58c; 1,000 lbs fine tub-washed Illinois, 45c; 3,000 lbs medium do 42c; 3,000 lbs medium Indiana 43c; 2,300 lbs fine Wisconsin 44c; 100,000 lbs fine Michigan 48½c; 6,000 lbs fine Minnesota 44c; 4,000 lbs unwashed Western 30c; 4,000 lbs do 29c; 1,000 lbs scoured do 55c; 1,400 lbs tub-washed do 45c; 4,000 lbs extra and double extra Virginia 58c; 1,500 lbs noils 37½c; 25,000 lbs assorted medium coarse No. 1 delaine 47½c; 1,500 lbs shearlings 18c.

In pulled wool, sales of 1,500 lbs lambs' 27c; 1,000 lbs super 40c; 500 lbs do 41c; and small lots of Western and Eastern extra at a range of 47@55c. In combing wool, sales of 3,000 lbs unwashed Canada 45c; and 8,000 lbs Ohio 50c. Canada is in small stock and generally held at 60c for good clean lots.

Coffee, Rice and Sugar at New York.

Coffee—The market for Rio continues very dull and weak, and prices are again one-quarter of 1c lower in gold. The demand is light, and the sales unimportant—say 41 bags, per steamer North America, at 12c gold, in bond; 3885 do, per Palma, before arrival, and 430 do, per Clansman, at Baltimore, on private terms. In other descriptions, there is little of moment passing here; 1200 bags Maracaibo sold on terms we did not learn, and 150 do, Costa Rica, 15@16½c gold.

Rice—We notice a further sale of 500 bags Rangoon, for export, at $3 56, gold, in bond. Messrs. D. Talmage & Co., in their Circular of yesterday, say of the Carolina crop: "The harvest is gathered and safe. From the best calculation from each locality, we give the following, which comprises the whole of the rice districts:—Waccamaw, 2,000 tierces; Pedee, 1,500; Santee, 4,500; Cooper River, 4,000; Pon Pon, 1,500; Ashepoo, 2,500; Combahee, 6,000; Savannah, Back River, 6,000; Altamaha and Ogeechee, 13,000; and Cape Fear, 2,000—in all 43,000 tierces; this will not vary to the extent of 1,500. The crop is coming in rapidly, as the South wants money prompt. The first lot received at this point brought 12¾@12½c. The succeeding lots ruled at 11@11½c, and, as the stream is growing larger and supply liberal, we to-day quote: Fair 10½c; fair, 9c; fair to good, 9½c; good, 10c; prime, 10½c. We expect our rates to fall off; present prices will drive Rangoons out of use for domestic trade. All foreign grades must be taken by the exporters; in fact, we can realize higher prices in bond to-day than we can by paying duties." At the close, the above prices could not have been obtained, and prime could scarcely be quoted above 10c; the sales embrace ad arriving—say 200 tcs since our last.

Sugar—The demand for raw has become quite moderate, and the market closes dull and weak, prices being a trifle lower than on Tuesday last. We now quote fair refining Cuba at 11½c; good do 12c, and No. 12 box 12½c, 4 mos. Refined is less active, and prices are rather easier; we quote hard at 16½@16¾c; soft white 15½@16½c, and yellow 14½@15½c, cash. The sales of raw are 2,840 hhds Cuba at 11¼@13c; 45 clarified do 13½c; 242 Porto Rico 11¼@14c; 60 hhds, 2 tcs and 74 bbls Barbadoes 11½@12½c; 85 hhds St. Croix 12½@13c; 5 hhds Cuba tank bottom 9c; and 3,129 bxs Havana 10½@14½c, 4 mos.—Price Current.

RIVER TELECRAMS.

Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, October 14.—The river is falling, with twenty-six inches in the canal.

RIVER NEWS.

STEAMERS ARRIVED AND DEPARTED.

Arrived.

Franklin	Carmack	Brownsville.
Chieftain	Hendrickson	Brownsville.
Elizabeth	Houghton	Elizabeth.

Departed.

E. Bennett	Cox	Brownsville.
Elector	Phillips	Brownsville.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—The rain, at least for the present, has been postponed. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant. We have dispatches from the headwaters of the Allegheny. The weather was dry in those parts. At Oil City the Allegheny measured fifteen inches and at a stand. At Brownsville the Monongahela had rose ten inches. This will help the big boats. At this port the river had rose about three inches. Above the bridge trade was active. The E. Bennett left for Brownsville with an excellent trip. Also, the People's Line packet Elector, had all the freight she could manage.

AT a meeting of the Steamboatmen's Association, held on Monday, October 14, the society was requested to call a meeting of the members of the association, to be held on Thursday, November 14, at 10 A. M., at the office of Flack & Collingwood, Water street. Punctual attendance is requested, as the election of officers will take place for the ensuing year. By order of the Association.

THE steamboatmen yesterday appointed a pretty strong delegation to attend the Cincinnati meeting that takes place on the 16th.

THE fine packet Franklin, of the Mail Line, in charge of Captain Carmack, takes her departure this day at 5 P. M., for Brownsville and Geneva.

THE People's Line packet Chieftain, Captain Hendrickson, leaves to-day at 5 P. M., for Brownsville and Geneva.

THE Cornelia has withdrawn from the St. Louis and Memphis trade, having broken a shaft while coming up the river. The May Flower enters the Memphis trade independently.

THE BURLINGTON.—The Northern Line Packet Company have given up all hopes of raising the steamer Burlington, which was sunk about a month ago, near Wabashaw. She will be wrecked.

A FISHERMAN, having in tow "a rack boat," containing eleven catfish, weighing over one thousand pounds, arrived at St. Joseph. The largest weighed 140 pounds. They were caught in the Missouri river, at the mouth of Nodaway river.

BENJ. W. SIMMONS died at Little Rock, on Saturday evening, the 28th, of cholera. He was buried at that place. Mr. Simmons was well known as engineer of the steamer Northwest, and had relatives and friends living here.

LOUISVILLE STILL UNHAPPY—LISTEN TO THE STATEMENT.—"The Ida Bees will leave Portland for Memphis and White river. She would come through the canal, but the "rent is so high" she can't afford it. Captain Lockhart ought to let boats come through for nothing these hard times."

AT a meeting of the Steamboat Captains' Association held yesterday, the following persons were selected to attend the Cincinnati Convention, to be held on the 16th, viz: Captains R. C. Gray, M. W. Beltzhoover, C. A. Dravo, A. McCarty, W. A. Sheddon, J. L. Roads, R. Robinson and James Rees, who will represent Pittsburgh.

BURNING OF THE LIVE OAK.—Early on Saturday morning, about four o'clock, the Red river packet Live Oak, lying up at the foot of Celeste street, First district, took fire, at New Orleans, from some unknown source, and burned to the water's edge. She was a total loss, except her hull. We learn she was partially insured, for about $15,000.

CINCINNATI.—Captain James H. Pepper, is about contracting here for a large freight steamer for the Southern trade. The dimensions of the hull will be 280 feet long, 55 feet beam, 50 feet floor, 9 feet depth of hold. She will have seven double flue boilers, 38 inches in diameter, and 23 feet long; the cylinders being 28 inches in diameter, with 10 feet stroke. She will carry 2,500 tons and her fuel for the trip.

NEW ORLEANS.—Business on the levee was a little brisker than it has been for several days past. The Cuba and Elnora, for Red River, got very good freights, and the Idaho, for the Ouachita, also had a fair trip. The fine steamer Magenta, with Captain Tom Leathers on the roof, left for Vicksburg with a light trip. We hope that yellow jack will soon leave these ports, and we may then look for the brisk business on our great Crescent City levee.

THE river men that met yesterday adjourned to meet again on the 14th of November. In the meantime let every person that was in attendance act as a committee and see that the next meeting has a full attendance, as officers for the ensuing year are to be elected.

LOUISVILLE.—Boats in Port—City Wharf—T. D. Horner, Governor Allen, Peytona, "Lightning" and new ferryboat. Portland—Empire, Argonaut, Morning Star, Tarascon, Rose Hite and Ida Rees. Shippingport—R. L. Hodge, Richmond, Indiana, St. Charles, Liberty and Ella Faber (all laid up).

A ST. LOUIS dispatch says: No effort has yet been made to raise the Ben. Johnson. Her cargo is still on board. The Missouri is in a wretched condition at the lower end, as well as above St. Joseph. Rivers still falling generally. There are four feet of water to Keokuk, less on the Lower Rapids, six feet to Cairo, five feet to Memphis, three feet nine inches in the Missouri, and twenty-two inches in the Illinois.

MEMPHIS, October 9.—The tow-boat Shark, while passing down at Horn Lake Landing on Sunday, with a tow flanked in and struck a barge loaded with flour and produce. The barge and cargo will prove a total loss, except a portion of the latter which was caught afloat by parties living on the river below. The Enterprise, two months out from St. Louis to Pine Bluff and back, passed up yesterday. Her captain is "shoost so mad as ter tyfel."

NEW ORLEANS.—The Times has the following: A dispatch was received from the commander of the Vicksburg and Natchez packet Grey Eagle, stating that he would arrive at the levee this morning with seventeen hundred bales of cotton—a full load. If the weather should be fair to-day, some little animation will be observed on the landing, followed, it is hoped, by some movement in the cotton market. The general belief is that we only require forty to fifty thousand bales of cotton to start the machinery of finance and commerce, notwithstanding the sickness continues an epidemic, and may continue the month through, declining in some respects from day to day. There are thousands still sick. We again repeat to absentees and others intending to come hither, to defer coming for five or six weeks. We regret to observe many fresh faces or new arrivals of people on our streets. They are only furnishing food for the fever. The Virginia arrived here yesterday, after a long and tedious voyage from St. Louis, with a large and valuable cargo, under charge of Captain John A. Dubie. No damage and not a single protest of the large and valuable cargo brought down by the Virginia. The only departure yesterday was the Wm. Butler, for Shreveport.

THE Mobile Register, of Sunday, says:

The Alabama is dead low and rapidly getting worse—a slight improvement, however, is reported in the Bigbee.

No boats in port, and none leaving until to-morrow evening—the Osceola for Montgomery.

The Clara will be in this morning, and will leave as heretofore, Tuesday evening next, for Demopolis.

The Onward is due to-night, or early Monday morning, and will leave on her return trip Tuesday evening, being the regular Tuesday night boat.

Without doubt the Belfast, is the best low water boat that ever turned a wheel, if all we have been told about her is true. For instance, we hear that when she was discharged here last trip, she was so light that in many places you could see under her. She could, we are told, have went over the falls at Wetumpka with ease, and would have done so, only Captain Shields, who is very popular there, didn't wish to injure the fish traps set in the channel.

We notice compressed cotton moving out of Mobile three ways—three hundred bales by the Great Northern Railroad, over a hundred by the Mobile and Ohio, and more than as much again to New Orleans by the Morgan Line—in all nearly a thousand bales. If it keeps on at this rate Mobile Bay won't see much of the staple this season, except as it goes to the Crescent City.

Insurance on Barges.

It seems to us that Louisville is always doing something to "cut off her head"—something to injure her commercial interests and help other cities along. It is a well-known fact that for some time past the commercial interests of our city have been to a great extent damaged by the low water, and this is not the only city that has been made to suffer from the same cause, for we hear of the same complaints almost everywhere. For a long time during the summer, or the past month or two, this city did a fine business in the way of shipping goods by the river. In fact, she did more shipping on boats and barges than any other city on the Ohio or Mississippi rivers, and bid fair to do an immense business during the fall. By accident, a stern-wheel boat, some time ago, sunk a barge down the river, and the eyes of the insurance companies at once flew open to their own interests, but much against the interests of our merchants and shippers. The railroad companies were tickled at their movement, for, of course, it had the effect to help them considerably in the way of getting freights which our merchants were compelled to ship by rail on account of the action of the insurance companies in this city. The several insurance companies got together and refused to insure any more freight shipped on barges towed by steamboats. This dampened the prospects of not only the shippers, but of steamboatmen. Now, we are opposed to regular barge lines, and would be opposed to the insurance of freight shipped upon barges towed by boats when the river is at a respectable stage; but at present, when we need shipping most and there is no other alternative left to ship on barges, save by rail, on account of the extreme low stage of the river, we say the action of the insurance companies is injurious to the interests of our city. Cincinnati, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Memphis and New Orleans companies do not refuse to insure. Why? Because they know that it would "chop off their heads" if they did. Cincinnati companies offer to insure freight shipped by Louisville merchants, on Louisville boats and barges, at Louisville prices, and have even gone so far as to solicit the patronage of our merchants and shippers. Now, we think the insurance companies ought to keep Cincinnati out and not invite her in to help us along. Let them revoke their opinions and order in regard to not insuring on freight shipped on barges. Let them insure on anything, to be shipped here, and if they want to "shut down" on insuring on freight shipped on barges, let them do it when the river is up and nobody wants to ship on barges.—Louisville Democrat.
